1929 MIRROR

BATES COLLEGE
LEWISTON, MAINE

Editor-in-Chief, JAMES N. SOLOMON
Business Manager, LAWRENCE C. LEBEAU

ARTHUR NEWTON LEONARD, A.M., Ph.D.

Dedication

To Dr. Arthur N. Leonard, our beloved friend "Dutchy," who has become endeared to all those who have had the privilege of knowing him either in or outside of class, we lovingly dedicate our 1929 Mirror.

A Christian gentleman and sympathetic teacher, whose wit and optimism make him popular in social gatherings — a professor who can enter sympathetically into the joys and sorrows of student life, because he remembers his own, and a man who teaches great moral lessons without preaching. For thirty years he has been at Bates, first as instructor of French and now as professor of German. As a symbol of our appreciation of "Dutchy," we dedicate our Class Book to a teacher who trusts and sympathizes with his students.

YOUTH

Oh, heart of Youth, that loves to seek, to dare,
 Gift of the gods, so precious and so fair!
 What can you not accomplish? Health is yours;
 Truth has been opened unto you; it pours
 From its full horn an untold wealth of gold
 And precious stones, a ransom for a king.
 Oh, radiant Youth, what happy thoughts you bring!
 You are the flower of earth; God made you so.
 He fashioned you like spring, eager to go.
 Bursting with life and love, your buds unfold.

You are the torch the world holds high; to you
 She looks for courage, high ideals and true.
 You are the vanguard, you must have the will
 To stand in face of danger, stand until
 The fight is won, or you have died for truth.
 Your task is great; nor life is only song.
 You cannot dream and idly drift along.
 But have no fear; a weapon proud you hold;
 A flaming sword, worth more to you than gold.
 You have the shining, flaming sword of Youth.

YVONNE L. LANGLOIS

Class Ode

To-day marks the end of our college years,
 To the end of our course we have run:
 And as when the victor is granted the crown,
 We can hear, "Twenty-nine, well done."
 Classmates, the hours we've spent together
 Too fleeing now they seem.
 Friendship lasts, all else is Memory—a dream.

Memories of our Alma Mater,
 Of her traditions too
 Of ideals and truth and honor
 Of Bates spirit true.
 Farewell, our dear Foster Mother,
 'Tis hard for us to say.
 Wilt thou ever guard and bless us, when
 For twenty-nine we pray:

Mother of men and women of fame
 Make us worthy of thy name.

WORDS AND MUSIC BY
 MIRIAM E. McMICHAEL

From the Diary of the Class of 1929

Freshman Year

September 24

General appearance of campus greatly improved by the arrival of the Class of 1929.

September 26

We were guests at the first "I am—you are" party. —Cider and doughnuts!!!

A welcome speech by Prexy!

October 1

100% attendance at the Empire to see Harold Lloyd in "The Freshman". Fletcher Shea, '27, received a football—our first introduction to an upper class "big shot".

October 5 and 6

Many a strong brow paled at the sight of our co-ed classmates. Who'd have thought they could look so unattractive!! Bedecked with stocking-leg caps, green ribbons, huge white gloves, doing little jigs and inviting folks to "step right up and call them speedy".

October 9 (afternoon)

Special cars took us to Lake Auburn, the Annual Freshman Ride—more cider and doughnuts. What a time!!

October 9 (evening)

At the Freshman-Sophomore Banquet, had our first introduction to Ray Thompson and his funny stories. Twenty-nine, still smarting from the paddling of the "week end" (previous).

October 12

First Observance of Founders Day. Our first opportunity to hear Prof. Hartshorn.

October 16

Bates wins Bates-Oxford debate.

We read in the STUDENT that Betty Crafts' papa plans to establish music courses here. Betty flooded with inquiries as to whether he was easy to get along with.

October 16

Ankled to Thorncrag with the rest of the Outing Club. Met Karl Woodcock and his camera. Asked him if he roomed on campus!

October 17

Our fighting Bobkitten eleven beat Rumford High by two touchdowns.

Our cross-country team, under Ray Buker's direction, outran Coburn Classical—that makes two victories to date.

October 27 (evening)

Sat through our first George Colby Chase Lecture. Dr. Gilkey, a University of Chicago Trustee, obliged.

November 6

Doris David elected captain Freshman Co-ed Hockey team.

November 9

Week of Prayer starts off with a bang. Raymond Nilson sneezed in Chapel. It almost started a riot.

November 9 (sort of a Gray evening)

Prexy again. A small group of Freshmen entertained by Pres. and Mrs. Gray at their home, Malcolm Gray at the piano.

The 1929 Mirror

November 10

West Parker Freshmen are commissioned to police the reception room.

November 20

Outing Club cabin at Thorncrag being rushed to completion under impressed Freshman labor.

November 27 (slush and rain)

Official beginning of unrestricted co-education. Some of us got a bid to the Sophomore dance at Rand.

December 14 (cold as —)

Corner stone for new Athletic Building laid. Building made possible thru the gift of Mr. Bingham. Prexy again.

January 10

Henry Cullinan, '29, recognized by Boston Sunday and daily papers as a wood carver of no mean ability.

February 15

Dr. Allen K. Foster in chapel advises girls to use old love-making plan—"Feed the brute; get him young; treat him rough and tell him nothing!!" Please note the first admonition.

February 24

Whole college mourns loss of Professor Hartshorn, last of old line of Bates professors.

March 6

Mary Pendlebury and Paul Chesley carry off the honors in Freshman Prize Speaking.

March 13

Helen Hudson and Mary Pendlebury among delegates at missionary conference at Colby. Would you believe it!!

March 17

Doris Chick placed as center on all-college Co-ed Basketball team.

March 19

Names of our Co-eds appear in "Stu G.", Y. W. and A. A. nominations.

Sophomore Year

October 1

Archery added to co-ed sports—for a long time they have been associated with the God who made the bow and arrow famous.

October 1

Freshman initiation handled with unparalleled success. An example of the innocence of 1930 was shown when one poor chap piled lumber all night for speaking out of turn!

October 29

Bates wins State X-Country meet. Chesley and Lyman, '29, placed.

November 6

Yvonne Langlois, Eugenia Southard and Miriam McMichael win places on varsity debating squad.

November 13

Faith Blake and William Brookes win Sophomore Prize Speaking Contest.

November 14

Prexy again. All three floors and the attic of West Parker were wrapped in sombre silence when prexy dropped in, seeking conversational communion. Jimmy Baker, tastefully garbed in a colorful bathrobe, acted as host.

December 1

The Class of 1929 introduced Frosh-Sophomore Hop idea. It was at this time that the bald-headed boy from Bangor first came into prominence as a master of ceremonies.

The 1929 Mirror

December 4

The Lewiston Police invaded the sanctity of John Bertram Hall in search of purloined signs and an incidental barber pole or two.

December 4

C. D. Gray Athletic Building christened by Frosh-Soph track meet. We won.

January 13

Howard Bull, '29, plays lead in the Dover Road.

January 29

Sophomore hop. Our first Class Formal, and a wow.

February 18

Overcuts popularized, Faculty lowers cost of overcuts from five to three points.

March 16

Prexy again. Prexy proved conclusively that as a debater he's no slouch, and incidentally that man is not a machine!

April 22

The Class of 1929 crashes through with another innovation by presenting a Sophomore Vaudeville Show. A huge success. Selfridge proved his ability in "Two Crooks and a Lady" to die from a bullet wound despite the failure of the gun to go off.

May 6

Another Penn Relay Victory. Adams ran with the winning team.

May 9

We held a class banquet at the DeWitt. Pres. Wood did not choose to run. After visiting at the home of Von Weston, '30, in Hallowell, he returned to Lewiston with his escort and attended the banquet.

May 27

An unfortunate situation: our co-eds were lined up against our eds in debate. The co-eds justified the time-honored claim to superiority in verbal combat.

June 3

Philip Tetreau will pilot us through our Junior year. Says the election didn't cost him a nickel.

Junior Year

September 30

Spectre of Death hovers over Campus! The Purity number of the Bobcat published on May 15, previous, proved too much for "the powers'" sense of propriety. It just wasn't 99 44/100 % pure. "Requiescat in Pace", said Prexy. Please omit flowers.

September 30

Scandal!!!! Dean of Women confesses to having played tiddle-winks at Monte Carlo during her summer abroad. Ruthie, we're surprized!!

September 30

A million dollar bulletin board in front of Hathorn. Gift of Class of '27. Wonder if it's paid for?

October 31 (fair and warmer)

We finally get an extra day at Thanksgiving. Hurray!

November 1

What! No oil! We blamed the maid, she said it was Bob MacDonald's fault, he said it was Norm Ross' fault, Norm said it was Harry Rowe's fault, he blamed it on the weather; at any rate we are to have no more oil on our dormitory floors.

November 4

Guy P. Gannett, a Portland publisher, will head committee to sponsor a Bates Round-the-World Debating Tour.

December 1

The 4A Players announce that they will sponsor the Varsity Play this year.

December 2

The 4A Players present "Outward Bound" with, but one exception, an all-'29 cast.

December 15

Our class takes over management of the STUDENT with unparalleled benefit to the aforementioned scandal sheet.

December 16

World Tour at last a certainty. Team announced, Ames, '28, Guptill, '28, and Davis, '28, to be our globe-trotting orators.

February 6

Prexy again. Gail Laughlin puts up a pretty stiff battle in a debate with Prexy on Segregation vs. Co-education. We're proud to state that Prexy upheld Co-education.

March 10

1929 again makes the campus sit up and take notice. The Junior Cabaret! All our customers declared it the "best time" of the year. Despite our modesty, we were forced to agree with them.

March 24

Informal opening of Alumni Gym. A perfect affair.

March 24

And now our co-eds have taken over Student Government, W. A. A. and Y. W. offices.

March 30

Senior men assume duties in new Y. M. Cabinet.

April 12

Faculty decide to extend double cuts ruling to last recitations in all courses. Damn!!

April 20

Annual Varsity Play again sponsored by the 4A Players. 1929 again furnishes the leads, in the persons of Miriam McMichael and Stewart Bigelow.

April 28

Bates wins National Championship in two-mile relay at Penn.

April 30

A real welcome for the Victorious Relay team.

May 6

Something new and radical, a co-educational commons. We rather enjoyed it. Why not make this a permanent fixture?

May 10

Bon Voyage to World Tour Debaters.

May 11

Dean Ruth Pope to leave Bates faculty and take up post graduate work at Columbia.

June 1

Howard Bull will head our class next year. Like Phil, Howard claims he didn't have to violate the corrupt practices act to be elected.

The 1929 Mirror

June 4

Ivy Hop.

June 5

Our Ivy Day. Here's hoping that extr'y special Mount Vernon Ivy we planted will grow.

Senior Year

October 5

J. B. Hall deserted by intelligensia. Only Freshmen left to annoy those in charge of the Commons by midnight revels.

October 19

Hoover landslide in Student poll—Will Rogers saved a whitewash—1 vote.

October 20

No longer may we clamber up the rugged sides of Mount David—a high fence. Mt. David is actually padlocked, my dear!

December 14

Student body rally in protest against release of Coach Wiggin and our "athletic policy"!

January 4

David Morey appointed head coach.

January 11

Wiggin accepts big position at Wesleyan.

January 11

Dr. Finnie gives last talk at the "Y". Bates loses another friend.

January 28

Annual Varsity Play again sponsored by 4A Players. "Arms and the Man", by G. B. Shaw. This time featuring Bigelow and Blake.

February 1

Mid-years approach but we're happy in the thought that we won't have to take any more mid-years, at least we hope not!

February 22

Joint exhibit between Lawrance Chemical and Jordan Scientific Societies. Good work and well done.

March 22

Phi Beta Kappa elections announced—hurrah for the cognoscenti!

April 20

We presented the Frivolities of 1929. Yes, Mary Pendlebury is missing her calling; she should be a show promoter. This is the third class affair of this sort that she has managed with unqualified success.

May 7

Last appearance of '29's thespians on the Little Theatre stage. "The Enemy", by Channing Pollock, provided the vehicle.

June 21-24

Our last days together as a class. One matter still weighs heavily on President Bull's mind, "will that class of mine come across with all the money for that new gateway?"

June 27

And, now, my dears, may none of us get a blank diploma—and, with compliments and felicitations—as they say in dear old Barcelona, Adios.

JUNIORS

President, ROY GLENDAL CASCADDEN

Vice-President, GLADYS EVELYN YOUNG

Secretary, FRANCES ELIZABETH JOHNSON

Treasurer, CLIFTON LEONARD SHEA

The mantle of dignified seniority is about to settle upon the shoulders of the Class of 1930. As Upperclassmen they have developed in athletics and in literary activities, and are fully capable of taking over the reins as the Class of '29 men and women reluctantly step aside.

The accomplishments of '30 are fast mounting up into a total which will be a mark for succeeding classes to aim at. We bequeath to them our seats in chapel, and whatever goes with them, and we feel confident that our successors will maintain the tradition of accomplishment which '29 has so well established.

SOPHOMORES

Class of 1931

President, SAMUEL MORRIS KENISON

Vice-President, DOROTHY ELIZABETH PARKER

Secretary, DOROTHY MORSE

Treasurer, HOWARD EMERY THOMAS

Having discarded the behavior and rank of Freshmen, and assumed the role of Sophomores, the Class of '31 has gone in there to do or die for old Bates, with characteristic determination.

To date they have gone about their tasks like nobody's business, and can present a comfortable list of contributions, the results of steady work in a broad field.

'31 started in to orient the new crop of yearlings, and in their handling of the situation, left nothing to be desired. The polished way in which they have so far performed is no doubt due in large part to solidarity of their class Spirit which was so well illustrated by their re-election of President Kenison, who piloted them so successfully as a Freshman.

Sophomore Prize Speaking

The annual Sophomore Prize Speaking Contest was won this year by Russell Edwards of West Sagville, New York, and Dorothy Morse of Canton, Maine. The speeches were well presented.

Yes, the baby is getting along fine. Why it seems only yesterday that he was creeping and crawling all over the place and now he stands up and walks alone. We are so pleased.

Nineteen thirty-two, God bless them, are growing up remarkably fast. It is hard to believe that only nine short months ago they were such helpless things, wandering about the campus with their mouths open and their eyes popping, dodging the squirrels and Upperclassmen in their frenzied desire to escape the attention they were so badly in need of.

The best of luck to you, Frosh.

Freshman Prize Speaking

The prizes this year were won by Lucile Foulger of Ogden, Utah, and Randolph Weatherbee of Lincoln, Maine.

Student Council has continued its splendid work in representing the men of the student body in the co-operative administration of students and faculty. Royal Adams has proven to be a most efficient president, and has most ably conducted the Student Assemblies, where the business concerning the whole student body is carried on.

The avowed purpose of the organization is to secure co-operation in carrying out the general policy of the college, and to improve in general the conditions of student life. Through this organization are arranged all matters requiring the joint attention of faculty and students.

Student Government began officially in 1921 under Dean Nile's leadership. Since then it has become one of the most vital student organizations ranking with the Young Women's Christian Association and the Women's Athletic Association. Business is carried on through the joint action of members of the judiciary board. Such business includes the adjustment of the freshmen to their new college life, enforcement of college regulations imposed by the board, and above all, a fostering of the real Bates spirit among all the girls of the college.

Our association is kept in touch with others by the attendance of our delegates at various divisional and national conferences.

The board has carried on most efficiently this year its task of adjusting the new system of housing and house government. It is a delicate task, but it has been successfully performed.

The function of the Commons Committee is to receive, entertain, and discuss suggestions in regard to the administration of the dining hall of the three lower classes. The committee meets once a month with the director of the Commons to consider the problems which arise. Criticism of the menus is heard; the service and the general deportment of the dining hall are investigated, both from the angle of the student and from that of the director. The ideal is to achieve better co-operation between the students and the administration. The responsibility for maintaining an attractive place in which to eat rests jointly with the students and the director. The realization of this fact and the mutual attempt on the part of both elements concerned to make this ideal a reality will help immeasurably in making the Commons more than a "filling station".

A three-piece orchestra composed of Rhoades, Small and Gormley furnish music at dinner. The new custom of having dinner at night has been tried and may become permanent if it meets with general approval.

This year the Commons and Fiske Dining Hall have been under the direction of Miss Roberts. She has had many years of experience in dietetic work and there has been improvement under her control.

The "Y" Cabinet for 1928-1929 started its year's work with a week-end retreat at Will's Cabin at Taylor Pond. Mrs. Wills has been very kind in lending her cabin for "Y" parties through the year. On this occasion the Cabinet members convened in excellent spirits, fresh from an enjoyable summer. Exhilarated by a cool dip and a full stomach the men willingly gathered around the fireplace to discuss the problems facing them, and to offer suggestions for an increased scope of activity in the work.

Fred Googins, '27, who has succeeded "Rus" McGown as General Secretary, with his inimitable personality and clear thought removed the usual apprehensions entertained at the introduction of a new man into a new work. Immediately we knew we were going to like him and enjoy working with him—and we have. It was due to his fine business tactics that little time was lost in unnecessary discussion; resulting therefore in the adoption of some very worthwhile policies.

The first and most important of these was the revising of the Statement of Purpose of the Christian Association. It now reads: "The Bates Young Men's Christian Association is a union of the students and the faculty of Bates College for the purpose of promoting Christian Spirit on the campus through its fellowship and service".

The second of these policies was the unanimous agreement to carry on the Wednesday night religious meetings. In most respects these meetings have been very successful. Harold Richardson succeeded in getting the following speakers: President Gray, Dr. Finnie, Prof. Harms, Rev. Helsley, Captain Lawton, Prof. Crafts, Mr. Sheldon, Paul Alden and Prof. Myhrman. All of these men left some lasting thought with their audience.

In the field of service we proudly catalogue the work of the following committees: Campus Service, New Students, Entertainment, Deputations and Community Co-operation. The chairmen of these committees have done a splendid piece of work. The figure of "Livy" Lomas standing behind a table in the "Y" Office, efficiently taking in and exchanging for cash second-hand books, will be remembered by many students. "Chuck" Cushing worked diligently on the reception of the new students. His efforts are worthy of commendation. We owe to him the success of the "Y" information tent, the reception of the Freshmen at the trains, the traditional I M U R Party and the Freshman Class Ride. "Cliff" Shea helped admirably in carrying on the Saturday night dances, a feature of our work that has a high social value on campus. George Anderson, with his deputation teams, has carried the spirit of fellowship and service into the hearts of appreciating country folks. "Joe" Haviland efficiently aided the Red Cross Association in their annual drive for membership. In the field of social service, he has handled isolated cases of needy folks in the town.

Conferences have been liberally attended by Bates men. A large delegation was present at the Northfield Conference and also at the Mid-winter Conference at Poland Spring. Delegates to these conferences have returned with the hope that they might visit the next one.

With the co-operation of the other Maine colleges we were able to bring two very interesting speakers to our campus. These speakers were part of a program in New England to bring to the local colleges authorities on various phases of international relations. Mrs. Huntington and Professor Latourette were received with great enthusiasm by the students giving courage to the instigators of this movement for its continuance.

The Y. W. C. A. is one of the strongest and most influential of the student organizations on the campus. Perhaps many people do not realize just what the Y. W. C. A. accomplishes, some of them seeing its workings only in the Wednesday night meetings. But it goes far deeper than that. Through the Y. W. Cabinet, a group of girls representing the student body to carry on the functions of the organization, the Y. W. C. A. carries on an extensive program both on the campus and in co-operation with the city organizations. It does its bit in social service to industrial people in the city in supplying leaders for girl reserve clubs, in fostering Sunday afternoon sings and Vesper music, especially at the Old Ladies' Home.

Through the Wednesday night meetings, arranged for by the Religious Meetings Committee, Y. W. tries to reach the interests and needs of every girl on campus. The programs are made as varied as possible, with student speakers, faculty speakers, and outside guests, all combined with suitable music. This year the girls have done a fine piece of work in trying to make their program as interesting as possible. We have had wonderfully inspiring talks by Miss James, Prof. Walmsley, Dr. Finnie, Fr. Carter, and many others. The attendance of the girls, too, has shown that they were interested and appreciative of the efforts of the Cabinet.

Not the least of the interesting jobs carried on by the Y. W. C. A. has been Freshman week. During this space of time in which the Freshmen alone are on campus, the Y. W. C. A. tries to make them feel at home here, to explain to them the traditions of the college, to show them the interesting things on campus, and to acquaint them with our Faculty and their wives. It is hoped that in this way every girl may learn to love the Y. W. C. A. and want to become a part of it.

Y. W. C. A. has also carried on some interesting projects this year. The biggest one was the bazaar, successfully put on under the able leadership of Polly Davis. This time it took the form of a station waiting room. Travel charts, posters, lunch-counters, and trunks being wheeled noisily from one end of Chase Hall to the other, added considerably to the local color. Lolly-pop Day was another interesting and successful experiment. A booth was set up in front of Hathorn Hall, and lolly-pops were sold there all one day. If everyone didn't have one, it wasn't the Y. W. C. A.'s fault. The professors bought them too!

Under the leadership of Frances Maguire we have brought to a close another successful year for Y. W. C. A. We have tried to "follow the gleam" to the best of our ability, and now we relinquish our places to our successors, wishing them all happiness and success.

Telling another fish story.

The Bates Student, of which the fifty-sixth volume has been printed this academic year, has maintained its standard of excellence. Under the efficient leadership of Lawrence LeBeau and his managing editor, James Solomon, the Bates Student has given us the news of our own and other campuses, plus interesting items about the professors and campus buildings.

Some mention should also be made of the "Garnet" which has been carried on this year in connection with the "Student" under the leadership of Faith Blake, Women's Editor of the "Student". We have been very glad to have our literary magazine revived, and hope it will continue.

The Publishing Association has general control of all student publications. Under the direction of this body the BATES STUDENT Board has been re-organized so as to meet and more efficiently handle conditions that have arisen due to the growth and rapid development of the Bates weekly. The new system went into operation this year with its first issue after the Easter recess. The new plan bids fair to bring about a more efficient division of labor and to assure to the STUDENT the place of merit among other college publications which it has enjoyed in the past.

The GARNET, a literary supplement of the STUDENT, gives ample opportunity for those who would try their talents in this direction.

Men Debaters

Again Bates has held its place of distinction in the debating world and has added twelve more contests to her long list of national and international discussions. Questions of vital interest have been debated such as compulsory arbitration of international disputes, the protection of capital in the Caribbean by armed forces, the place of convention in modern life, the merits of advertising, and the problem of Trial by Jury.

An innovation in the men's program was renewal of debating with Bowdoin College and with Carleton College of Minnesota. Once again the "Gentlemen of Oxford" came across the seas to visit and debate us here in America, and during the same week Bates Round the World Debaters were meeting both Oxford and Cambridge Universities in England. The Oregon System was introduced for the first time on campus in intercollegiate debating and was enthusiastically received.

Bates-Oxford University

The season was quite fittingly opened with the international contest held at Augusta City Hall, November 5, 1928. Oxford's representatives were: Allen Lenox Boyd, Dingle M. Foot, Malcolm Brereton.

Bates was represented by Howard Thomas, '31, Frank Robinson, '30, and Walter O. Hodsdon, '29. The debate was a mixed team affair and Thomas, Foote and Hodsdon upholding the affirmative of the proposition, "Resolved: That this house favors compulsory arbitration", received an audience vote of 420 to 169 for the opponent of the measure. Prior to the debate, the debaters and company were entertained at dinner in the Blaine Mansion by Governor Ralph O. Brewster, the chairman of the debate.

Bates-Vermont

This debate on the question, "Resolved: That the trend of modern advertising is deplorable", held on the evening of November 19, was the first time the Oregon System of Cross Examination was used on campus.

The speakers for Bates were: Samuel Gould, Clayton White, and Robert Hislop all of the Junior Class. No decision was made on the debate but the audience expressed itself in favor of the new style of debating.

Bates-Yale

A team composed of Howard Thomas, '31, Randolph Weatherbee, '32, and Samuel Gould, '30, met the Yale speakers in Hathorn Hall on the evening of January 19, 1929, on the compulsory arbitration question. Yale was awarded three votes of the judges.

Bates-Marquette

A new and inexperienced team represented Bates against Marquette on February 21, in a spirited discussion on the proposition, "Resolved: That convention is to be deplored." The negative of the question was upheld by Scott Treworgy, '31, Norman MacDonald, '32, and Bernard Krosnick, '31. This was a no decision debate.

Bates-Carleton

This debate, perhaps the most closely contested of the season, was held on March 25, 1929. Bates was ably represented by John H. Manning, '30, Randolph Weatherbee, '32, and Samuel Gould, '30, who upheld the negative of the proposition, "Resolved: That the Jury System should be abolished." Carleton won by a 2-1 decision of the judges.

Bates-Boston College

On April 16, 1929, Norman MacDonald, '32, Walter O. Hodsdon, '29, and Samuel B. Gould, '30, journeyed to Pawtucket, R. I., to debate the advertising question with Boston College at the city high school auditorium. This was an exhibition debate and there was no decision.

Bates-Bowdoin

On the evening of May 17, Bates sent a team to Brunswick and renewed debating relations with Bowdoin to the tune of a two to one victory. This is the first time in six years that Bates and Bowdoin have seen fit to stage a verbal fracas with the possible exception of those little arguments held in a more persuasive style which sometimes follow a football or hockey game.

Bernard Krosnick, '31, Howard Thomas, '31 and Robert Hislop, '30 all of whom have had previous varsity debating experience did the honors for Bates.

The question, "Resolved: That the United States should cease to protect investments in the Caribbean countries by armed force," is one which the men's team debated with the University of Porto Rico and the women's team with the University of Maine and the Connecticut College for Women.

Women Debaters

In this 1928-29 season, women's intercollegiate debating has enjoyed the most extensive and interesting schedule in its history. Our women have held their first debate with representatives of British Universities, and their second international debate with McMaster. They have also undertaken a tour which included debates with Smith, Radcliffe and Pembroke Colleges.

The English Debate

Our first debate with English women took place in the college chapel on December 13, 1928. The debaters, Miriam McMichael, Yvonne Langlois and Eugenia Southard supported the negative of the question, "Resolved: That the disadvantages of co-education outweigh the advantages." They won an audience vote on the merits of the question. This was the first English women's team to debate in this country and the Bates debate the only one held in New England with the visitors. It is hoped that our women may enjoy more debates with the English, both here and across the sea.

The Women's Tour

During a tour which extended from February 20, to February 24, a team composed of Miriam McMichael, Constance Withington and Eugenia Southard debated at Smith and Radcliffe Colleges on the negative of the question, "Resolved: That the trend of modern advertising is deplorable." The Bates women won the former debate by an unanimous decision of the judges; the latter was not decided.

The Bates-McMaster Debate

At Hathorn Hall on February 28, 1929, Bates College, represented by Ruth Shaw and Gladys Young, debated McMaster University women on the question, "Resolved: That the Jury System be abolished." The Bates women upheld the affirmative and won by a unanimous decision of the judges.

Delta Sigma Rho is the national forensic fraternity. Bates has been granted a charter from this National Organization. Membership in the fraternity is honorary, and is open only to those who have finished their Junior year with high academic credit and have taken part in at least two intercollegiate debates. Those who wear the key of this Greek letter society have been distinctly honored. They have every reason to be justly proud, for their key signifies that they have won added honors for their Alma Mater.

The following Seniors were admitted last year: Yvonne L. Langlois, Miriam E. McMichael, Eugenia M. Southard, and Walter O. Hodsdon.

Three years ago a Men's Glee Club was unknown at Bates, at least under that name; there was only a Men's Musical Club, which included a Glee Club and an Orchestra. However, under the skillful direction of Prof. Seldon T. Crafts, the Club has taken root and has grown to be one of which Bates has no reason to be ashamed. This year, with a larger representation of students than ever before, the Glee Club is very well balanced. Its first concert of the year, given at the Gymnasium Cabaret, was received with great enthusiasm; this serves as an indication that its engagements in the future should be successful and should add to the prestige of Bates among the citizens of Maine.

We wish to present for your approval the Women's Glee Club and its director, Prof. Seldon T. Crafts, thirty willing song-birds and one courageous leader! At the beginning of the year, only nine of the preceding flock reported at the old home nest, the rest had flown to other climes, but vacancies are soon filled in Birdland. Since one of the easiest things to do is to fall into a rut, birds seldom vary their calls, but this year we are proceeding contrary to all custom by twittering thru an entirely new repertoire.

We cannot fly to every corner of the globe, but it is our hope and belief that our reputation, modestly enviable, will spread afar.

The Orphic Society is, in every-day language, the Bates Orchestra. Although it is a young organization in respect to the number of years it has existed on the Bates' campus, nevertheless it is now recognized as one of the leading groups of student artists which are a part of our college life. Last year the Orphic appeared at Gardiner, Hallowell and Portland besides a number of times in Lewiston and Auburn. An excellent ensemble of instruments made up this orchestra and, although we miss several of its members, the incoming class increased the ranks to over thirty. This year the society has played with marked success on several important occasions.

The Band, although comparatively small at the beginning of this year, was reinforced considerably by members from the entering class. Under the skillful direction of Prof. Crafts, this group of amateurs was moulded into a unit with a high degree of competence and excellence. They performed at all the important athletic contests of the fall, and helped to instill into the student body a little of the Bates pep and spirit. The efforts of the Band should be appreciated and credited by the students, as is the service and conducting of Prof. Crafts by its members.

Organized in 1917, Macfarlane Club, named for Will Macfarlane, who was then municipal organist at Portland, has a membership of twenty-five students elected from the three upper classes.

The officers have charge of arranging the program committees for the year, and each member serves at least once on this committee. "Contemporary Musicians", "Band Music", "Current Events", "Folk Songs" and "Nature in Music" have been used as subjects for the regular meetings. Especially memorable have been the open meetings with Dr. Britain speaking on "Music and the Other Arts", Professor Crafts on "Schubert", and Dr. Leonard on the opera "Der Meistersinger"; the joint meeting with the Lewiston and Auburn Philharmonic Society; and, finally, the banquet.

The College Choir, organized January, 1914, is one of the outstanding musical organizations on campus. Chapel services are made more pleasant by the choir's rendition of an anthem each Tuesday morning. At Christmas and Easter, musical services are arranged to which the public is invited. Professor Crafts deserves much commendation for his excellent work during his four years with the choir. He has developed and trained groups of fine singers.

To the Seniors who are interested in teaching Latin, the meetings of Sodalitas Latina offer an opportunity to discuss difficulties, methods and suggestions for their work. In addition, Miss Alley, from Edward Little High School, has been a speaker; a play has been given, and papers have been prepared by the members on Virgil, Caesar, Cicero, the Value of Latin, the use of the bulletin board in the Latin class room, and the Virgilian cruise. "Latin Notes", a pamphlet with practical ideas on the teaching of Latin, is subscribed to and is available to every member of the club. These meetings have been successfully planned by Ola Coffin, the chairman of the program committee.

On the first and third Mondays of each month the club meetings have been held. Talks were held on German customs, music, legends and contributions; programs on Goethe, Schiller, Heine and other noted writers. The Christmas party of the Club is an event to which all its members look forward. A cabin party to Thorncrag was held in place of a regular meeting and was enjoyed by all. Dr. Leonard, Mr. Buschmann and Mr. Fehlan, pastor of the city German Church, have spoken at various club meetings.

Kappa Chapter of Phi Sigma Iota was installed at Bates College in January, 1929, by Dr. Henry Ward Church, national president of the society.

Phi Sigma Iota is not merely "another Greek letter society". It was organized after several years of experimentation to fill a real need, and is a recognized asset to any institution in which it has been established. Its sole object is the reward and stimulation of a high grade of scholarship in Romance Languages and Literature.

It has been conclusively proved that there is no more effective stimulus to better scholarship than the prospect of membership in an honorary fraternity of recognized ideals. Phi Sigma Iota not only provides such a reward, but thru its regular meetings provides an opportunity for individual scholarly work on the part of its members.

"Tout homme a deux pays, le sien te puis la France". With this idea in view it is the aim of La Petite Academie to inculcate in the minds of the members a real love for that which is French—a love for the creative art and the genius d'esprit of the French, a love for the French people, their language and literature. To accomplish this purpose the club invites outside authorities to speak on the different phases of French life, literature and art.

The meetings are well attended and interesting programs, in which the members take part, are presented. Nor is the social side neglected; occasional parties are given, especially around Christmas. This year instead of the usual French plays a Mardi Gras carnival was given with great success.

La Petite Academie is a real live organization and holds a prominent place among the various campus activities.

Programs have been arranged for the past year under the direction of Miss Hazel Blanchard, assisted by Professor Chase.

The program allows for a symposium, and a reception for the Greeks of the city, or, as it happened during the past year, a reception tendered by the local Greeks to the "lovers of Greek" at Bates. The symposium took place in March at Rand Hall, with menus made in the form of owls, the symbol of the Society, and attractively printed in Greek.

In 1910, Professor Spofford of the English Department founded the Spofford Club, whose members have customarily been selected from the group of students who have displayed particular interest in creative English Literature. In years past, it has been the custom to hold weekly meetings of the club, at which meetings a program was offered consisting of original material, read by the members. Recently, the club abandoned the weekly meeting plan, in favor of a program of semi-monthly meetings. It is also the privilege of the Spofford Club to edit one issue of the Bates Garnet, in which are printed contributions of the club members.

Under the leadership of Howard W. Knight, Men's Politics Club enjoyed a very successful year. An unusually wide range of subjects in the field of government and economics was handled. Nicaragua, the Bolivia Paraguay boundary dispute, Limitation of Armaments, the Maine Supreme Court, Latin-America and the immigration quota law were the major questions of discussion.

For its open meeting which was well attended the Club had the privilege of listening to Scott Wilson, Chief Justice of the Maine Supreme Judicial Court, deliver an interesting and informative address on the "Workings of the Maine Supreme Judicial Court".

Through the kind invitation of Governor Tudor Gardiner, the Club spent an entire day at the State House at Augusta as personal guests of the Governor. Both the Maine House and Senate were visited while engaged in actual discussion and debate. Dinner was enjoyed at the famous James G. Blaine Mansion.

The Women's Politics Club has as its aim the maintenance of an interest in matters of government and politics among the women of the college. Membership is limited to a maximum of fifteen girls who have majors in the social sciences.

During the first semester a series of discussions on the Caribbean Policy was held; the second semester has been devoted to various topics such as the Cruiser Bill and the Kellogg Peace Pact. On March 18, Prof. Myhrman gave a very enlightening talk on the subject of the recognition of Russia. This meeting was open and well attended.

The big event of the year was a trip to Augusta, taken in company with the Men's Politics Club, at the invitation of Governor Gardiner. This trip included visits to both houses of the Legislature, and to the Wednesday afternoon Committee Hearing. Luncheon was served at the Blaine Mansion.

Altogether we have had a very successful year.

The Jordan Scientific Society was organized in 1910 in honor of the late Dr. Lyman Granville Jordan. The purpose of the Society is to stimulate scientific thought and activity aside from that required by the curriculum. Meetings are held twice a month during the school year. An attempt is made to secure speakers who are prominent and able to discuss present day points of interest in all scientific fields, with a view to keeping in touch with recent scientific developments.

In accordance with the plan of putting on the Jordan Scientific Exhibition on alternate years, the society during the past year combined with the Ramsdell Scientific Society and the Lawrance Chemical Society in an exhibit of the work of all departments of science at Bates.

Ramsdell Scientific Society, named in honor of Professor Ramsdell, is composed of fifteen members, from the Senior and Junior classes. Each prospective member must be recommended by the heads of two science departments or obtain a double recommendation from one department. Meetings are held once in two weeks at which the members respond to the roll call with recent scientific facts. There is often a lively discussion.

Papers have been prepared by the members on interesting phases of Physics, Genetics, Biology, Mathematics, and Public Health, with the particular purpose of sharing one another's knowledge of special fields, as well as of discussing scientific questions and facts of general interest. The program is varied by occasional lectures; by trips to mills, hospitals and print shops; by an open meeting at which Professor Ramsdell usually speaks, and by a cabin party in the spring. Professor Packard has spoken on food eccentricities under the title, "This Corn Beef and That Cabbage"; and Dr. Lawrance on "Cellulose". The processes of spinning, weaving and dyeing were observed in the course of a trip through the Cowan woolen mill.

This year, in conjunction with the Jordan Scientific and the Lawrance Chemical Societies, the members put on the biennial Scientific Exhibition.

A new campus organization was formed in October, 1928, through the efforts of certain Juniors. The purpose of this organization, which was named the LAWRENCE CHEMICAL SOCIETY in honor of Dr. Walter A. Lawrance, is to bring about an increased knowledge of chemistry, with special emphasis on current research publications; to encourage original work on the part of its members; and especially to foster a spirit of fraternal helpfulness not only while the members are in college but after graduation as well. Its members are chosen annually from the two upper classes, only those having a genuine liking for chemistry, intending to make it a life work, being eligible.

The program for the year 1928-29 consisted of the delivery by some of the members of technical papers on recent research work; addresses by several eminent outside speakers; and the presentation of industrial motion pictures related to chemistry. In February of this year the first annual Exhibition was held at Hedge Laboratory where some very interesting and instructive experiments were performed.

The Cosmos Club was first organized in October, 1923. Before the year was finished, it had a membership of thirty-two students. The purpose of the Club was to aid these students who wished to enter some branch of Christian service to choose their work. Since then, the aim has expanded to include students who are interested in what is being done in Christian work, but who do not necessarily expect to enter the ministry or mission fields.

This year the Club has thirty-one members. The programs have included an initiation and a cabin party at Thorncrag and lectures on various subjects. Mrs. Induk Kim, a native of Korea, who is the travelling secretary for the Student Volunteers, spoke to us about her native land. Rev. Guptil, pastor of the Maine Seacoast Mission, told us about his work.

The Outing Club has made special efforts this year to make all of its members realize that they have a place in the Club. The Board of Directors has worked energetically and sincerely to make the student body realize that the Outing Club is the biggest organization on campus.

To start the year a picnic was held in the fall. Bonfires were built on the highest point of Thorncrag. Hot-dogs and marshmallows were toasted and eaten with doughnuts and cider. The half mile of narrow road through the woods at the end of the hike to the foot of the hill enhanced the pleasures of the supper.

In the late fall the Thorncrag and Sabattus cabins were given a thorough over-hauling. Andirons, curtains and new kitchen utensils were installed. Later in the season a new phonograph was placed in the Thorncrag cabin.

The Winter Carnival, under the competent chairmanship of Reid Appleby, Chuck Cushing and Johnny Cogan, went off smoothly and to the satisfaction of everyone. The weather helped out by giving us snow enough. The inter-mural events aroused considerable interest on Thursday and Friday afternoons. The Ice Carnival, with its band, lights and eats furnished a memorable evening. Saturday found all four of the Maine colleges competing for the Winter Sports Championship. Maine offered more competition than usual and thus made the events more interesting. Bates Snowmen had no trouble in taking the Meet. The Carnival Hop held in Chase Hall furnished a fitting close for the mid-winter occasion and the tenth Winter Carnival went down in history as worthy of taking its place beside those of former years.

Some stir was aroused early in March by the possibility of a winter trip up Mount Washington. An invitation was received from Dartmouth to accompany their club on such a hike. Although it proved impractical for this year it seems likely the plan may develop.

Late in March the Outing Club again broke into prominence by staging a "County Fair" in Chase Hall. This supplanted the circus held for the two preceding years in the Athletic Building. It proved to be a novel and enjoyable occasion with side shows, nickel dances and all kinds of places to spend money.

The major event of the spring program seems to be the long hike. Definite plans are not as yet settled. Sentiment seems to lean toward Katahdin.

It has been the policy of the Outing Club throughout the past year to enlarge the scope of its activity wherever possible. It has felt that any activity affecting the entire student body was its business and has tried to be of service to its members in as many aspects of college outdoor life as possible. Any further extension in the future will be a step in the right direction.

The 4A Players have just finished one of the most successful seasons since their organization. For besides producing at regular intervals plays of the usual high quality, several permanent improvements have been made in the little theatre itself. Spot and flood lights have been purchased and extensive changes made in the stage and house wiring. The stage craft department under the direction of Julius Mueller, has done especially praiseworthy work.

More than usual attention has been given this past season to enlarging the activities of the Heelers Club. This Club, so called, is a waiting list from which talent is drawn from time to time to aid in 4A productions. A careful record of credits and quality of work done is kept and on fulfilling the requirements, members of the Heelers Club become eligible for nomination to the English 4A Players.

The Varsity play was again sponsored by the Club this year and for the first time was presented in the Little Theatre rather than on a down town stage. Shaw's "Arms and the Man" was an unqualified success and the Bates Little Theatre goers were generous in their praise of the fine type of work done in its production.

The first presentation of Outward Bound was given on consecutive evenings, December 1 and 2, 1927. The play, which was coached by Marion Garcelon, '28, then president of the 4A Players, met with such success that later in the year it was presented at Sanford under the auspices of the Sanford College Club.

So many requests came to the 4A Players during the remainder of the season and the early part of last fall that it was decided to repeat the play this year. The play this time was under the personal direction of Professor Robinson who used the original cast in its entirety, and to whom a large measure of the play's success was due.

The whole play was performed in truly professional manner, aided in no small degree by the splendid stage management which has characterized the 4A productions this year.

The Varsity Club is one of the most co-operative and influential clubs on campus. It is an exclusive club; to be admitted the college letter must be won, and a public and private initiation undergone. This year's membership totaled sixty-five.

During this past year the club has continued with its enthusiastic work; football rallies were held, and the "Back to Bates" night, held before the Bowdoin game, was very successful.

Through the kindness of Philip Annas, '28, the club is the proud possessor of a bobcat which has been stuffed and is now on exhibition in Chase Hall—since that is the only place for him until the new Varsity Club room in the Athletic building has been completed. The entire club is gratified that the Varsity Club has the possession of this college totem.

This club set aside February 21 and 22 as sub-freshmen week. About thirty prominent, and we hope future Bates, athletes were our guests. This is probably the last so-called sub-freshmen week as next year the organization will take charge of smaller groups at a time under the impression that more can be accomplished in this manner.

The annual Interscholastic Basketball Tournament was held in our new gym. The burden of the work fell upon the Varsity Club. The event was run off smoothly and satisfactorily to all. The club received many congratulations for its fine work from officials, coaches, newspaper men, and the players competing.

The club feels sorry to lose one of its best friends, Coach Wiggin. A banquet was held in his honor at Chase Hall on May 10. Many alumni and friends of Wig were present on the invitation of the club. A bronze statue of a coach was presented to Wig as a testimonial of our "Confidence" in him, his "Loyalty" and with our best "Wishes" for him in his new field of activity. At this same banquet Reggie Threlfall was also remembered. The club certainly will miss the fine spirit shown by these men both to us individually and as a club.

Every June the club handles the annual Interscholastic Track Meet held on our playground. This is the crowning event of the season's program.

The following men have completed their athletic career and will now be passive but not disinterested members: Snell, Chesley, Cole, Adams, Giroux, Nilson, Daigle, Lane, Malia, Maher, Turner, Gates, Topolosky, Pooler, Coy, Immonen, Jewell, Colburn, Tetley, Knight, Webber and Alexander. In spite of this great loss in membership the Varsity Club next year should be very powerful and capable of handling the tasks that grow steadily every year.

The football season of 1928 was one of the most unsuccessful ones ever passed thru by a Bates team. They started the season with a squad strong in linemen though somewhat weak in backs, and bright things were hoped for by the Garnet supporters but the team never seemed to get going. Their greatest difficulty seemed to be a lack of offensive ability when scoring opportunities presented themselves. Time and time again they made long drives toward the enemy goal only to be thwarted on the ten or fifteen-yard line. This difficulty was especially noticeable in the Colby game. It is useless to attempt to offer any alibis. The season was, it is hoped in more ways than one, a culmination of several disastrous years.

Wesleyan 14 Bates 0

The season opened at Middleton, Conn., with a defeat at the hands of Wesleyan. During the first part of the game the Garnet seemed to be having the upper hand but a fumble gave Wesleyan the first score when Peck scooped it up and ran about half the length of the field. Throughout the game the home team gained consistently on exchanges of punts and a particularly favorable exchange put the Wesleyan outfit in position to score its second touchdown which came in the third quarter. Coach Wiggin's inexperienced backfield showed a lot of punch at times during the contest and Secor made some particularly good gains. Captain Nilson and Appleby were the outstanding line performers for Bates.

Mass. "Aggies" 6 Bates 0

The second game of the season was a hard fought battle with the Mass. "Aggies" in which the farmers were victorious by the closest of margins. The only score of the game came early in the fourth quarter when the Bates line weakened after a goal line stand and allowed the Aggie back to slip across the line. The outstanding player of the game was Anthony, the giant Bates tackle, who broke through and smeared plays many times. In the backfield, the work of Secor, the remodeled end, featured. The Massachusetts boys were a hard fighting aggregation and well deserved their victory.

Tufts 13 Bates 0

"Fish" Ellis and undefeated Jumbos were the next to take the Bates scalp but they did it only after the hardest sort of a battle. During the first quarter the home team seemed to have the upper hand and with Sol Johnson bearing the brunt of the attack, made considerable headway through the Tufts line. But in the second quarter following an exchange of punts which favored them, Tufts started a march to the Bates goal line with Ellis making most of the gains. This individual gave one of the best exhibitions of ball carrying ever seen on Garcelon Field. Secor's fumble paved the way to the second touchdown. In the closing period Bates seemed well on the way to a touchdown when Bornstein by a clever bit of broken field running took a punt and carried the ball seventy-five yards before being forced out of bounds. A grounded forward pass over the goal line ended this scoring chance.

Boston University 7 Bates 0

In a game featured by the stubborn defenses of the two teams, B. U. nosed out the Garnet eleven. The Hub eleven finding the Bates line hard to pierce resorted to an air attack which culminated in the only score of the game in the second period. In the first period Boston University failed to score by less than a foot after making a first down on the three yard line. "Bunny" Bornstein again contributed his thrill to the game when in the last quarter he returned a punt forty yards, a feat which was marred by a fumble when he was finally tackled. The Bates offense was very weak in this game and at no time did they penetrate the enemy territory to any depths. The game was the first to be played on the new home field of Boston University.

Maine 47 Bates 0

For the third year in succession Fred Brice's Maine team completely overwhelmed Bates. In the first period the Orono outfit was held in some semblance of check but after that the home team cut loose with everything they had which was considerable. With Buzzel, Coltart leading the parade, they swept down the field five times for scores in the last half. The Maine team never worked with more precision and dispatch than it did then. The line simply opened large holes and the backs galloped through leaving most of the tackling to be done by the secondary defense men. There is little to be said for the Bates team unless it is the last minute drive which they made to the Maine five yard line. At this time both teams were composed almost completely of substitutes. Zakarin played a brilliant game at center for Maine.

The 1929 Mirror

Bowdoin 12 Bates 0

On the Saturday following the Maine game the Bobcat showed a complete reversal of form when it entertained Bowdoin on Garcelon Field. At the end of a fierce struggle played in mud, ankle deep, and during a heavy down-pour the Polar Bears were extremely fortunate to emerge the victors by two touchdowns. The first touchdown came late in the first quarter when Bowdoin took the ball on downs at about mid-field and carried it to the seven-yard line. Here Foster fumbled when he was tackled after making a short gain and Stiles dove through the mud and slid across the line. The second half had a very decided Garnet tinge. Johnson and Secor were consistent in their ability to gain except when a touchdown seemed imminent. With darkness falling rapidly and Bates battling desperately to tie the score, Bowdoin took advantage of a second lucky break to put the game on ice. Johnson had crashed through the line and was making his way through the Bowdoin secondary defense men when the ball bounced out of his hands and landed in the arms of Braman, who raced over the goal line unmolested.

The Wigmen then carried the ball to the two-yard line where the Bowdoin line stiffened and the game was over.

Colby 26 Bates 0

Scoring in every quarter Colby emerged the victor in the last game of the season. The score of 26 to 0 in no way indicates the fierceness of the struggle. The big noise in the Mule's attack was Wally Donovan who in the opening period ran seventy yards to score and repeated his performance in the closing canto. The first score came with disheartening quickness after the opening whistle but the Bobcats came back and carried the ball to the Colby twenty-yard line before the period ended. At the opening of the second period when the visitors sent Scott over the line after a sustained march down the field and once more the Garnet carried the ball deep into the enemy territory only to lose it again. Several long runs by Scott and Donovan gave Colby their third touchdown. An intercepted pass on the twenty-eight-yard line stopped the next drive by the Wigmen and on the next play Donovan worked himself loose and completed the scoring for the day. Some evidence of the struggle which ensued is seen by the fact that Colby made sixteen first downs against nineteen for Bates. Sol Johnson was the most consistent ground gainer for the losers. Maher also did some very effective work along this line.

Freshman Football

Coach Finn's Garnet Cubs won only one of the five games which they played but they held their own against the strongest prep schools of Maine. The team was captained by Francis Moller, a former Manchester High star.

Opening their season against Hebron they were defeated by a score of 12 to 0. They held the prep school boys, admittedly one of the strongest secondary outfits in New England, scoreless in the first half. In the third quarter Dwyer and Hart crossed the line and the closing period was scoreless.

The following week the frosh and Bridgton Academy battled through four scoreless periods. The feature of the game was the last minute stand made by the freshmen on their four-yard line. The rest of the game was a rather uninteresting mid-field struggle.

A blocked kick in the closing minutes of play spelled defeat for the freshmen in the Kents Hill game. The visitors presented a heavy, rugged team and the Bates team was unable to make much headway against them.

The team won its first game against M. C. I. by the score of 21 to 20. The Pittsfield boys were light but extremely aggressive and came back to tie the score twice after the freshmen had taken the lead and finally to snatch the lead themselves only to lose it in the last minute or two of play.

The following were awarded numerals: Ends, Mazonson, Moller, E. Murphy, J. Murphy; tackles, Ryan and White; guards, Allison, Broggi, Long, Mardossa; center, Gorham; quarterback, Mantelli; halfbacks, Charneuse, Flaherty, Knox, Plager; fullback, Brown.

Coach Thompson inaugurated his career as track coach by sending his pupils to a decisive victory against Tufts in a meet run over the local course. Chesley, Viles and Hobbs breasted the tape together after leading the pack over the entire distance. Hickey of Tufts saved his team from a complete shutout by finishing in fourth place but the rest of the Bates men had finished before another Tufts man appeared with Chapman and Furtwengler tying for fifth and Hayes and Cushing tying for seventh. The score was 17 to 46.

The Maine Meet

On November 2 the Garnet tasted the bitter dregs of defeat at the hands of Chester Jenkin's University of Maine outfit. By finishing seven men within the first nine the Pale Blue harriers won by a large score of 17 to 44. Richardson and Lindsey did the expected when they lopped across the line in a dead heat. Ellsworth Hobbs was the first Bates man to finish. He and Chesley finished fifth and sixth. Viles, one of the Garnet's outstanding hopes, had the misfortune to trip over one of the hurdles and the bruising and shaking up which he received probably cost Bates a third place. The rest of the team finished in tenth, eleventh, twelfth and thirteenth positions.

The New Englands

Surprising even their most ardent supporters, the team finished with the low score of 65 to take third place in the New Englands held at Franklin Park, Boston. As was expected Maine won the meet with a score of 46 followed by New Hampshire with 53. Hobbs ran the best race of his career to take sixth place. Chapman finished tenth, Furtwengler fourteenth, Jones seventeenth and Cushing eighteenth. Viles ran himself out in an attempt to stay with the leaders.

The first ten finished as follows:

- | | |
|--|--------------------------|
| 1 Richardson and Lindsey, tied for first | 6 Hobbs, Bates |
| 3 Benedict, New Hampshire | 7 Cahalan, New Hampshire |
| 4 Howard, New Hampshire | 8 Hazen, New Hampshire |
| 5 Stinson, Maine | 9 Hickey, Tufts |
| | 10 Chapman, Bates |

The teams finished in the following order: Maine, New Hampshire, Bates, Williams, M. I. T., Tufts, Holy Cross, Amherst, M. A. C., Northeastern and Boston University.

Freshman Cross-Country

The Freshmen turned in a very credible season in cross-country. The opening call for candidates found but two or three experienced competitors answering. Their schedule was an unusually short one and only two meets were held. Howard Bartlett, the former Huntington School star, was captain.

On November 6 they were easy victors over Bridgton Academy by a score of 19 to 38. Bartlett, Cole and Whitten of the yearlings tied for first followed by Bonney in fourth place. The scoring was completed by Skreczko in ninth place. Had not the prep school boys been forced to run without their captain, Johnson, the score might have been somewhat closer.

Competing at the New Englands the Freshmen finished in third place with a score of 66 points. The University of New Hampshire was first with 53 points followed by Maine with 62 points. Norman Cole and Norman Whitten finished 4th and 5th and Bartlett crossed the line in 8th place. Bonney in 22nd and Skreczko in 27th place were the others to score for the Garnet Cubs. Bartlett would undoubtedly have finished better but for the fact that he apparently did not know just where the finish line was and his sprint was started several hundred yards too soon.

Coach Thompson should be given a world of credit for developing a winning team from such green material. The following men were awarded their numerals at the end of the season: Bartlett, Bonney, Chapin, Cole, Skreczko and Whitten.

Summary of Season

The 1929 hockey season was rather a disappointing one although at times the team appeared to be unbeatable. Potentially at the start of the season they appeared to be the best ice outfit to represent Bates in recent years but for reasons unknown they seemed to lack the punch necessary to score one goal and tie the game which was all that would have been necessary in every contest that they dropped. Captain-elect Cogan was the star in all of the games and he is without doubt one of the most brilliant hockey players in the college ranks to-day. Secor and Captain Pooler played consistently good hockey. Three freshmen of unusual ability were available during the last half of the season in the persons of Farrell, McCluskey and Murphy. These yearlings should be heard from next year.

Opening the season as is customary against the Brunswick Cabots the Bates team was the victor in a slow and uninteresting contest, the outcome of which was never in doubt in spite of the closeness of the 2-1 score.

The state series was opened at Lewiston on Saturday, January 5, when Bowdoin scored the first of its surprising victories over the Bobcats. The Wigmen were the aggressors throughout the game and scored midway through the first period when Cogan took the puck from Secor and flipped it into the net. In the second period Tiemer tied the score after a solo flight down the ice. The winning counter came in the overtime period when Thayer scored on a pass from Parker.

A week later the White Mules of Colby invaded the Arena and held the Garnet to a 2-2 tie score after a rugged battle. Colby showed unexpected strength and during the first period swept everything before them to take a commanding 2-0 lead. After this spurt Waterville collegians appeared to weaken and the rest of the game had a decided Garnet tinge with the Bobcats at all times being the aggressors. Cogan scored both of the Bates goals and his brilliant stick work was outstanding at all times. Two overtimes failed to produce the tying score and the teams called it a day.

Bowdoin next repeated its victory of the first game when they again were victorious in the fast game played on the delta at Brunswick. The first Bowdoin score was of the variety for which the Bates team was to become more or less famous before the season was over. Topolosky stopped Tiemer's bid for a goal and then accidentally dropped the puck into the cage. All of the scoring was done in the first period and the remainder of the game was fairly close with the Polar Bears seeming to have a slight edge.

The annual trip southward included only two games this year and the team broke even by overwhelming the Army and losing to M. A. C. The West Point game was little more than a parade, the cadets possessing one of their weakest teams in years. The work of Johnson featured this game. The Mass. Aggie contest was lost by a score of 1-0.

Four days later the Aggies came to Lewiston for a return game and finally came out on top after one of the weirdest exhibitions ever seen on the St. Dom's surface. Jumping to an early 1-0 lead the Bobcats soon found themselves being smothered under an avalanche of shots and when the bell rang they found themselves on the short end of a 4-1 score. In the second period led by Cogan they scored twice while the farmers tallied only once. Still the game seemed hopeless when the last quarter opened but three goals in rapid succession sent the Bates supporters into hysterics. With a 6-5 lead the game seemed to be theirs when a scant thirty seconds before the final gong the Aggies slipped one into the cage to send the game into the overtime. The first overtime produced the winning tally.

About this time an exhibition was played with Colby about which the less said is probably the better. Suffice to say that undeniably rough tactics of a certain Colby defense man changed the game into a free for all and due to the failure of the referee to penalize this individual the Bates team refused to take the ice again and the game was lost by forfeit.

On January 29 New Hampshire with one of the best teams in New England took a 1-0 decision from Bates but it took the freakiest kind of a lucky break to turn the trick for them. Cogan in attempting to hook the puck away from the net flipped it in for the only score. Fierce play during the remaining two periods failed to produce any more scores.

Following the mid-year examinations Bowdoin with the state championship already clinched came to Lewiston and were met in no uncertain manner by a determined band of Bobcats. The 3-0 victory of the Bates team left no doubt as to the relative merits of the two teams, at that time at least.

Minus the services of Johnny Cogan, the Wigmen then encountered M. I. T. and lost an exciting overtime battle by a 3-2 score. At the start Bates seemed outclassed, but led by Ray McCluskey, the diminutive freshman wing, they recovered themselves and battled the Beavers at every point. During the third overtime period the Tech boys scored the winning tally.

There followed a decisive win over Colby at Waterville. Altho the game was hard fought it had none of the wrestling and football tactics which had distinguished the previous encounter there. The score was 3-1.

The season was closed in a very satisfactory manner by a victory over the New Hampshire Wildcats at Durham. The 3-0 verdict went a long way toward making up for the defeat administered by them earlier in the season.

Freshman Hockey

Coach, FRED T. GOOGINS, '27

The freshman hockey team won two games, lost two and tied two during the season of 1928-1929.

The season opened at the Stanley Arena in Hebron where the Big Green were the victors in a close game with the score standing 3-2 at the close. Considering the strength of the schoolboy aggregation the loss was far from discouraging. Farrell in the goal and McCluskey played excellent hockey for the cubs.

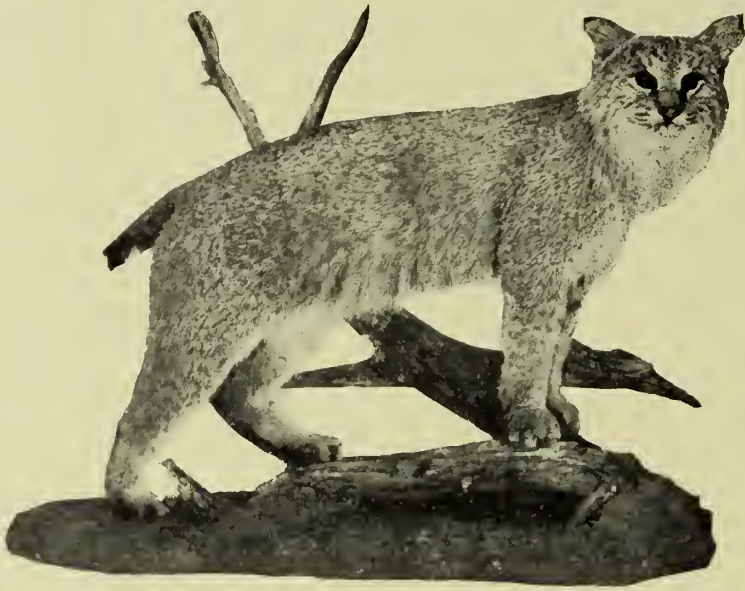

There followed a decisive victory over Canton by the score of 6-1. The high school boys put up a hard fight after the freshmen had opened up a big lead in the first period but the tricky skating of McCluskey, Murphy and Secor was too much for them.

Coburn Classical Institute was the next victim but the game was close and interesting with one of the freshmen's two goals being in the nature of a gift. The fine work of Farrell prevented the Waterville outfit from scoring.

Somewhat of a surprise was in store for the yearlings when they met the fast skating team from Cony High in Augusta. Shortly before the final whistle blew the visitors slipped the tying goal past Farrell, and darkness prevented playing an overtime and a 2-2 score was the result.

Bridgton Academy closed the season by scoring a well-earned victory by the score of 4-2. Verbal arguments with the referee slowed the game up considerably. Murphy played well for the freshmen.

The following were awarded numerals at the end of the season: Allison, Farrell, Franklin, D. McCarty, McCluskey, J. Murphy, Ness, Pendergast, Sahl and Secor.

Summary

The season of 1929 found the winter sports team at Bates enjoying a successful season. Lack of interest in the sport at the other Maine colleges this year as in others put rather a damper on the sport. It is hoped that in the next few years interest will revive in this rigorous form of activity.

During the Christmas vacation Bates was represented at the annual intercollegiate winter sports meet held at Lake Placid. Norman Whitten, '32, proved to be something of a sensation when he came home in first place in the two-mile snowshoe race. This victory gave Bates its only points at the meet. Starting against a field of seventeen of the strongest collegiate snowshoe artists in the country, the garnet freshman remained in third place for the greater part of the rough cross-country course. A half-mile from the finish he fell into second place directly behind Bertram of Dartmouth and two hundred yards from the finish took the lead and came in a winner by about forty yards. It was a brilliant race and the seventeen year old lad from Lee Academy should be a big asset to winter sports here. The other members of the team at the meet were Immonen, '29, Miller, '30, and Gerrish, '31, who were entered in the ski races, snowshoe races and ski-jumping respectively.

The next meet at which Bates was represented was the meet held on Garcelon Field in connection with the visit of the Canadian Snow Shoe Clubs to Lewiston. This meet had a decidedly international flavor and undoubtedly some of the country's best athletes in this sport were in competion. Miller, Burris, Hodgkin, Stearns and Whitten competed for Bates. The only place winner was Whitten who took second in the mile and half-mile snowshoe events. In the mile the winner was C. F. Francton of Montreal who is the holder of the world's record for the distance. The other Bates men found the competition too severe.

The state meet held during the carnival resulted in the eighth consecutive championship for the Garnet. Maine was represented by an unexpectedly strong group and the margin of victory was not as great as it has been in former years. Bowdoin was not officially represented altho Appleton of that institution was the star of the meet with first in the ski proficiency, the downhill ski race and ski jump. In the seven-mile ski race Immonen and Chick took first and second places. A tie for first between Whitten and Stearns was the result of the two-mile race. The downhill ski race was the only event in which Bates was shut out, Maine taking first, third and fourth places with Rollins of Colby coming in second to score the only points for his team. Whitten, Gerrish and Lizotte placed second, third and fourth in the ski jump. Ben Chick was the official winner in the ski proficiency.

Summary of Season

According to the established order of things the baseball season was ushered in with the annual Patriots Day Bowdoin game. Transferred to the Brunswick diamond because of the aquatic conditions on Garcelon Field it developed into a bitter struggle with the down river aggregation nosing out the Garnet by the score of 3-1. Stiles on the mound for Bowdoin had a slight edge over Norris Marston. The feature of the game was the clever triple play executed by the Brunswickians in the seventh. At the time bases were full and several Bates scores seemed imminent. The victory gave Houser's men an early lead in the state series which was enlarged this season to include four games with each college.

The following weekend the team played Harvard and Tufts. The North-eastern game scheduled as a part of the trip was cancelled on account of rain. At Cambridge the team lost a 5-1 decision and Tufts took over the Bobcats by 3-1. The former featured by the pitching of Whitmore of Harvard, who pitched no-hit ball until the ninth, when three Bates hits were pounded out and Bates' only score was made. Marston pitched a good game but still showed the need of practice. The Tufts game was a close pitchers battle with Giroux hurling for Bates. Until the seventh Wiggin's men held a slim 1-0 lead. These games ended out of state contests and the team settled down to the task of defending the state championship won in 1928.

A smashing double by Red Flaherty, freshman sensation, scored three runs and was largely responsible for the defeat of Maine at the Lewiston Athletic Park in the opening game with the University aggregation. Marston's pitching was effective although he issued five bases on balls. Maine scored first when Elliot walked and came home on Well's triple. A moment later a passed ball by Luce scored Wells. In the fourth, Plager tripled to deep right field and scored on Cole's single. In the sixth, each team scored and the score stood 3-2. In the seventh, singles by Cascadden and Plager, and a walk by Cole filled the bases, and the stage was set for Flaherty's blow. The Black Bears went down fighting, however, and scored once in the eighth, and threatened in the ninth, but at the end they were still one short.

On Friday, May 4, the Bobcats lost a heart-breaking game at Orono. Marston pitched a brilliant game, allowing only four hits and fanning fourteen. For ten innings the teams went scoreless but in the first of the eleventh Luce's single scored Turner from second and the game seemed to be sewed up. It seemed more so with two Maine men out and two strikes on the third. But just as the disgruntled Maine students were leaving the stands, Wells connected for a double. Plager then juggled Courbet's grounder, threw wild over first base and the tying run was across the plate. Rockway's single then ended the contest and Wiggin's men found themselves reposing in the cellar position in the state series.

The result of the next game altered the aspect of things considerably. The Garnet was the victor over Bowdoin in a weird 12-10 fracas at Brunswick. Giroux on the mound allowed only seven hits but the infield supported him wretchedly and six errors were chalked up against them. The fifth inning was a wild melee. With a 2-1 score against them the Bates boys combined hits with Bowdoin errors to score seven runs, four of which were scored on Gilman's homer with the bases loaded. In the seventh the score was tied at eight all but another scoring bee was staged to put the game on ice. All in all it was a ragged exhibition of the great national pastime but Bates went into second place in the league standing.

Two days later the Hathorn bell announced another victory, this time over the league-leading White Mules. Flaherty was again the hero of the occasion. His triple in the twelfth with Gilman on first scored the tally that sent the stands into a bedlam. The score was 6-5. The game was a combination of good and bad playing and atrocious umpiring on bases. It is an open question as to which team gained the most by this last mentioned factor. Bates grabbed an early 1-0 lead but in the sixth scored three runs on errors. The eighth was a big inning for the Wigmen and when the dust had cleared away the count was knotted at 5-5. Fast double plays stopped Colby rallies in the tenth and eleventh. In the twelfth, Cascadden's fine throw from right field beat Deetjen to the plate when he attempted to score from second on a single. Flaherty then put an abrupt end to the whole affair with his smash over the center fielder's head.

Now in a tie for first place with Colby the team proved its right to that position by winning a fast, clean ball game from Maine by the score of 1-0. Their playing was a reversal of that exhibited in the two previous games and they gave Giroux perfect support. The game was a pitchers battle all the way with Giroux having a slight edge on Solander. The latter had trouble in getting settled down at first and three singles netted the only score of the afternoon. It was Gilman's hit that scored the winning run. Giroux pitched puzzling ball and the Maine men could do little but pop the ball to the infield. In the last of the ninth with two out Maine placed men on first and third, and the fans began to see visions of the previous game at Orono but the best that Brice's pinch hitter could do was to fly weakly to Pooler.

A smashing 5-1 victory at Waterville on May 17 put the Garnet in the lead in the league. Marston had the White Mules eating out of his hand while his team-mates hit in a timely and effective manner. Flaherty was responsible for two of the runs when he hit a home run with one on base.

Just as a matter of warming up for future state series conflicts the Wiggmen shut out Northeastern 6-0 on Garcelon Field. Ben Chick was given a chance to show his wares in this game and he rose nobly to the occasion.

The annual Ivy Day game at Bowdoin resulted in the strengthening of the Bobcat's hold on the lead. Marston allowed Bowdoin only six hits while Bates was pounding Souther and Leech for ten safe bingles, six which were made by Turner and Brown. The former hit a home run, a triple and a single. In the fourth Flaherty walked, Pooler singled and both scored on Turner's triple. Turner scored the next two runs in the fifth on a fielder's choice and in the seventh on his home run. Bowdoin's most serious threat came in the eighth, when a walk, a passed ball, a single and double accounted for two runs. The last out of the game came when Shute of Bowdoin was thrown out at the plate as he was trying to stretch his triple into a home run.

Three days later Bowdoin made its first visit of the year to Garcelon Field and lost a rather loosely played game by the score of 6-4. The league leaders were given a real scare and going into the sixth inning were on the wrong end of a 3-0 score and had been hitless before the pitching of Leech. But Giroux took matters in his own hands and drove a titantic home run to the left field fence. Cascadden then singled and made his way around the circuit on errors by Thompson. In the next inning three runs were added and the game was won. Brown beat out an infield hit, Giroux walked and Cascadden singled, scoring Brown and sending Giroux to third and both scored when Leech threw wild to first on Turner's grounder. Gilman scored from third on Brown's sacrifice fly in the eighth inning. The Bates infield cracked a bit and three errors were chalked up against them. In the fourth Whittier tripled and scored on a single by Stiles. A wild throw by Brown sent Lincoln to third after he had stolen second. Thompson scored him on a single. Rose forced Thompson at second but went to third when Plager threw wild on an infield tap. The third score of the inning came when Turner missed Leech's grounder. In the ninth Bowdoin had the bases full with only one out but Flaherty caught Crimmin's fly and Whittier struck out.

Bates made sure of its second consecutive state championship by defeating Colby in a thrilling game at Waterville on May 29. Marston was assigned the task of clinching the pennant for Wiggin's men and he was not as effective as usual, but errorless fielding and heavy hitting gave Bates an early lead which was of great assistance to them when Colby rallied in the closing innings. The last two innings were the ones which told the story. Trailing by the score of 4-2 the Waterville outfit showed its fight by tying the score on Brown's single and Lovett's home run over the fence. Marston opened the tenth with a single, went to second on Cascadden's bunt and scored on Captain Cole's double. Plager then singled and Cole crossed the plate. The last half of the tenth was heartbreaking for the large crowd in the stands. Deetjen doubled and Ferguson walked. Wiggin then removed Marston and sent Giroux in to save the game. He balked on his first pitch and the runners were on second and third with none out. But the Bates infield refused to get excited over the situation and the next three men were thrown out at first. The Bobcats scored in the first inning mainly on the skillful base running of Cascadden, who on two infield outs negotiated his way around the bases after he had singled. Flaherty's single was the scoring punch in the fourth inning. In the sixth two more runs were added on consecutive singles by Turner, Cole, Plager and Gilman. The playing of Cole was sensational thruout the contest. He hit safely twice and made several brilliant stops.

The winning of the state championship is a very fitting send-off for Wiggin who becomes head baseball coach at Wesleyan next year. Most of the credit is due to him for at the beginning of the season the Garnet was only rated as an ordinary ball club but the instilling of a winning spirit into the team has been the greatest factor in its success.

B. A. A. Games

The track team opened the indoor season with competition in the B. A. A. Games at Boston on February 2. Coach Thompson elected to run three teams in the evening's program. A mile team was to run against Northeastern and Worcester Tech. Experienced quarter-milers being very scarce this year, the men on the team, S. Kilbourne, Cascadden, Fuller, and Gould, had none of them ever before seen competition in a relay race. Northeastern was especially rich in fast steppers and took the lead at the first corner. Kilbourne, running lead-off, turned in as fast a quarter as could be asked for, the fastest of his indoor running, but could be no better than second at the finish of his leg of the twelve laps. The other three men met the same sort of opposition from the Northeastern men and Gould, the anchor man, finished in second place.

Bates' hopes were centered on the Varsity Two-Mile Relay, one of the outstanding events of the evening. Due to the win of last year in a record-breaking race, the team was the defending champion and everything looked good for a repetition with two of last year's men, Captain Adams and Chesley still on the team ably supported by Chapman and Viles, both men of outstanding merit. Chesley was running in his customary position of lead-off and got away in good shape. A wilt at the finish however dropped him back from the favorable position of second into fourth in the midst of the confusion of many runners on a narrow track. Due to this fact the pass to Viles was muffed and Viles was thrown down by the heavier runners. This placed Bates in last place. Adams, running third, and Chapman, anchor man, worked hard to pass in some good half-miles and pass all but the man from the University of New Hampshire and take a second. The time was 8:14, nine seconds slower than the time made by the Bates team the year before.

For the first time a freshman team ran for Bates in the race open to freshman teams. More than ordinary ability was found in the freshman class and a very respectable team composed of Knox, Dill, Bartlett, and Cole took a creditable third against a big field. Holy Cross, anchored by the doughty MacCafferty, won the event while Dartmouth ran second.

The Northeastern Meet

On February 23, Bates met the team which had beaten them in the mile relay at the B. A. A. Games three weeks before. The Boston boys showed themselves in other events than the relay although it was the two-lap relay race, the last event on the program, that finally decided the meet. The same team that had won in the mile race earlier in the season again won their event and Bates was nosed out by the close score of 41-45.

The meet was well contested and so close throughout that it was replete with interest and competition. Early in the list of events Wally Viles showed his wares by cleanly leaving behind the entire field and setting a new gym record of 4:34 for the mile run. Another sophomore, Hayes, by a pretty bit of sprinting at the finish took second. The points were sorely needed, however, since the visitors had taken first and second in the dash and made a clean sweep of that event in which Bates is weakest, the hurdles.

Captain Adams decided not to allow all the speed events to go to the opponents and took first in a lightning finish in the 300. In the middle distances, "Ossie" Chapman took two firsts, one in the 600 and another in the 1000. Some close running by Lind and Adams gave them a tie for second and a third respectively.

The relay team of Adams, Gould, Knox, and Cole was unable to keep up with the quartet of Huskies and the lead of the opponents gradually increased and with it the winning points of the meet were taken by Northeastern.

The I. C. A. A. A. Indoor Meet

For the first time in a number of years Bates sent a team to the winter meeting of the I. C. A. A. A. for the championship of America. The meet was held in New York in the 168th Street Armory which is credited with having the fastest track in the world. Bates was again pitting her Two-mile Relay team against the fastest teams of the East. New York University was favored to win the meet and, with the great Olympic runner, Edwards, running on the two-mile team was counted on to take that race. Princeton and Georgetown were favored to place well up in the money. The Bates delegation was out to avenge the former defeat, however, and ran the best that was in them.

The lead-off man, Chesley, ran a heady race and finished in second place, well ahead of the crowd. Captain Adams, taking the baton from him and running second, took the lead during his race and, running a two-minute half, passed over a few yards to Viles. Viles can run as fast a half as was shown by his turning in a 1:58. He was competing against the best of the best, now, and was passed by a Georgetown man and a man from N. Y. U.; he passed to Chapman in third place but with only a few yards separating him from the leader.

Then followed a real race between the Bates anchor man and the Violet runner. All others were left far behind. Chapman closed in on his opponent and dogged his footsteps for some time. With just a lap of the track to go he came up abreast of the leader and attempted to go by. The man was not yet ready to give in and the corner was reached before "Ossie" could succeed in gaining the lead. On the back stretch the N. Y. U. runner sped for all he was worth and Chapman was able only to keep pace with him. The winning time was 7:52 with Bates a second behind.

Bates-Maine Dual Meet

The annual indoor meet with the University of Maine was held at Orono on March 9. It was a meet of fast times and close races with Bates men doing their best to garner points. The aggregation under the leadership of Coach Jenkins proved that they possessed the strength that was suspected of them and took the meet 73-44. Three of the records for the Maine track were broken and six of the records for the meet likewise went under the work of the two teams. Captain Adams quite outdid himself in winning both the 300 and the 600 from men supposed before the race to be faster than himself. Black of Maine made a total of eleven points and was high point man. Dill, the Freshman pole-vaulter, won first place in the event while Giroux tied for second place. Bates again showed her weakness in the hurdles.

The times in the running events and the distances in the field events plainly showed the high class of the meet and would have done justice to any company whatever. Lindsay's mile, run in 4:20, was as fast as the one which took the race at the I. C. 4A meet the week before.

The Bates-New Hampshire Dual Meet

The first outdoor dual meet of the season was held at Lewiston with New Hampshire on May 4. The visitors took the meet to the tune of 75½-59½. There were several upsets, among the most unexpected were the results of the mile and the quarter. Viles led practically the entire race in the mile and then found that the wind and mud had so tired him that Calahan of the Wildcat team beat him to the finish by a few yards. In the quarter it seemed to Captain Adams that there were too many men running. Adams was effectually boxed for almost the entire distance and at the finish the unexpected strength of Noyes forced Adams to be satisfied with a second.

In the 120 high hurdles Kilbourne grabbed off a second place for Bates against some fast company. The 100 yard dash went to the freshman sprinter, Knox, with Johnny Cogan stealing out a third place. Another freshman, Whitten, added three points by taking a second in the two-mile after very nearly beating his man to the tape. Chapman easily took the half-mile after being challenged once by a New Hampshire man. Knowlton did a fine bit of work in the broad jump and made a record of 22 feet 11½ inches. In fact, all of the field events with the exception of the hammer throw were creditable. Dill set a new meet record in the pole vault along with Brooks of New Hampshire by tying with him at 11 feet 9 inches. Houle won the discus at 132 feet.

The Pennsylvania Relays

After the race run in New York the Two-Mile Relay team was again primed to make a bid for the honors of the title of Two-Mile Relay Champions by annexing the race at Philadelphia. Again they were defending champions and again they were meeting the best of the land. Lady Jinx had followed them all the way to the Quaker City, however, and on the first turn the baton was kicked from Chesley's grasp while he was attempting to pass a runner. It placed him well in the rear and made any running by the other members of the team entirely futile. The race was won by a very able team from the University of Chicago with New York University second. The time for the two miles was 7:50. Chapman ran a half that was clocked in under 1:56 and finished in fifth place.

The Maine Intercollegiates

The State classic in the track and field games was held at Waterville on May 18. Although the dopesters had conceded Maine the victory before the meet started and although the University was out in the lead from the very start, the competition given by the other three colleges was a kind that would have gone far in any ordinary meet. The weather was the best in years, being nearly perfect with very little wind and enough warmth to make the contestants feel full of pep. Maine won the meet, adding up the largest score that has ever been totalled by the winner, 81 $\frac{1}{3}$, while Bates was in second with 27, Bowdoin third with 17 $\frac{1}{3}$, and Colby trailing with 9 $\frac{1}{3}$.

Wally Viles started off the scoring of points for Bates in the mile run, the first final to be run. Finishing a very short distance behind two flyers from the U. of M., he ran the fastest mile of his career to take a third. The winning time was 4:25 $\frac{1}{5}$. The next event on the list also netted Bates a single point. Captain Adams found that a third was the best he could do in the 440. Running a fast trial in the morning and attempting to repeat in the 220 he was used up by the afternoon races. The time in the quarter equalled the record, 49 4/5. Maine took the other eight points in both the events.

In the 100 yard dash Bates took the lion's share of the points, thanks to the fine performance of little Billy Knox who won the event in 10 seconds. The 880 yard run came very near to being a clean up for Bates, a Bates parade. Chapman, running from behind as usual, took the lead from Chesley with 300 yards to go. Chesley fell in behind him and Lind, the long-legged alternate on the winter's relay team, was close upon Chesley's heels. For over 250 yards they raced thus, the three Garnet jerseys in single file. Just at the finish, however, Lind was overtaken and beaten by the fast finish of Rivken of Colby. Chapman's time, 1:56, set a new record.

The two-mile run was a romp for Richardson of Maine who came within a second of the record for the distance. Gaining a lead of a good hundred yards in the early part of the race he held the advantage and won in 9:46 1/5. The real race was for second and third positions with Whitten battling with a Maine man and a Bowdoin man for the points. In a regular sprint finish Whitten managed to get into third place and came very near to taking second.

Another mark was set in the field events when O'Connor of Maine jumped 23 feet 5/8 inches to better the mark of thirteen years standing. Knox of Bates placed third in the event while Knowlton was unable to get out into the distances that counted. Dill came through even better than was expected of him and took first in the pole vault.

The New England Intercollegiates

Scoring in six events and finishing in fourth place, the Bobcats returned from the New Englands well satisfied with their showing. Maine won the meet as was expected with a total of 43 points, and was not even pressed by Holy Cross and Brown who finished second and third by scoring 25 and 24 points. The sixteen points garnered by Bates were enough to assure them of fourth place.

Summary of Season

The 1929 tennis season was a rather unsuccessful one, in-as-much as the team failed to win any of its matches. At the beginning of the season an enthusiastic but green squad reported to Coach Tufts. Graduation took such stars as Davis, Moulton and Rand and it was the freshman class which supplied the major portion of the material.

The season opened with a dual match with Colby at Waterville. The Elm City outfit was an easy victor by the score of 5-1. Bujold was the only victor for the Garnet. He defeated Delaware of Colby in a close match.

Another freshman, Jacobs, proved to be Bates' only threat in the state championships held at Waterville on May 17. In the opening round he defeated Delaware of Colby, 6-4, 4-6, 6-4. The other Bates players were eliminated. In the second round he met Farrington Abbott of Bowdoin, a player of considerable reputation, and was a victor, 7-5, 6-4. In the finals played a week later he lost to Soley of Bowdoin, 6-0, 6-1, 6-1. One of the surprises of the tournament was the elimination of Tattersall of Colby, the defending champion.

At the New England Intercollegiates, Jacobs and Richardson represented Bates; Richardson was eliminated in the first round by Wigglesworth of M. I. T. After drawing a bye in the first round Jacobs survived the second by defeating Allen of Colby 6-4, 6-2. Worth of Wesleyan eliminated him in the third round in a close match, 7-5, 7-5. Jacobs put up a fine game against his more experienced opponent. In the doubles competition, Jacobs and Richardson were eliminated in the first round by Parker and Soley of Bowdoin, 6-3, 6-2.

The Tufts tennis team visited the campus on May 29 and whitewashed the local team by a score of 5-0. Bujold in the singles and Bujold and Lightman in the doubles forced their opponents the most. In his match with Young of Tufts, Bujold won the first set and forced the second to an 8-6 score before losing but the third went to the Tufts man by 6-1. In the other singles matches, Lightman lost to McCaul, 6-4, 6-1 and Jacobs fell before the fine playing of Roberts, 6-3, 6-2. Jacobs showed the strain of too much competition. Richardson and Jacobs lost to Gifford and Young, 6-1, 6-1, while Roberts and Hubbard were defeating Bujold and Lightman, 8-6, 6-1.

Another loss was sustained on the morning of Memorial Day when Wesleyan scored a 5-0 victory. The extreme heat slowed up the matches considerably.

The Spirit of "A.A."

*"Not merely to win, but to play;
Not to destroy, but to build;
Not smugness but beauty in growth;
These are our aims—the 'A. A.'"*

J. R., '27

The purpose of A. A. is to promote permanent interest and sportsmanlike participation in athletics, and to co-operate with the Physical Education Department in developing every girl's physical and mental efficiency to the utmost of her ability.

From four years of feeling this spirit and this purpose we know that A. A. succeeds. Every girl in college is an active member of A. A. Consequently it can well afford awards for special accomplishment. A few ideal girls attain the highest of these, the cup, for their evidenced ability and interest. Some are decorated with the "B" medal. Many earn the white sweater and nearly everyone merits her class numerals. But A. A. doesn't consider its power as resting in the number of girls possessing awards. Its greatest joy is that whatever girls do win is done by the right spirit, the game for the game's sake, forgetting the award is the real inspiration. There's a real thrill in winning when you've played for the love of playing. And losing isn't hard when you've given all you had! (Experientia Dacet) A. A. aims for participation of everyone, in some way or another, when winning doesn't mean points toward the class cup. Which, by the way, that inimitable class, '29, is bound to get, eventually. A. A. has, and will put emphasis on the value of sister class games at the end of hockey, basketball, etc., also the inter-dorm Basketball league; all-college-girls' skate at St. "Dom's", the Greek Fete; Hare and Hound picnics, and all activities pointing toward a spreading of this true "play-spirit".

It has been a privilege and pleasure, being on A. A. Board this year. The "Pre.", "Eth." and the "Phys. Ed. Heads", in fact, every board member has the interest of the whole association at heart. The 1930 Board we hail as equally strong and to it we extend our best wishes. With Fran and those constantly helpful coaches it can't go wrong!

P.S.: We have heard that the college medical authorities are very gratified with the good effects voluntary training has on this W. A. A. (But it cannot be realizing the half of it) Bates girls are getting " ? and Better" every year. What a generation this training is forming. It can't be beaten for efficiency and wide-spread popularity—(Virtue Rewarded!)

The most frequently seen of all A. A.'s awards is the "B" sweater. Sometimes it's white. Now it isn't just that eternal feminine vanity that makes us happy to perspire or freeze, take cold showers (and they are cold!), starve between meals for want of a peanut, and get in eight hours sleep, to get stripes toward this sweater. Nor is it the need of a warm wrap. It's the love of wearing something, along with your companions, that represents your joy in sports, perseverance and skill. It's a mark of distinction, this sweater, showing that you've made the best of your ability and that your ability merited reward. But say, wearing the sweater isn't the only joy a "B" girl gets. "B" girls have lots of cabin parties of the Bring-your-own-man, more fun than the ocean has waves, kind.

PROF. WALMSLEY

Want a leader? Want a friend? If you want just anything why send over to Cheney, first floor, back. An' if Prof. Walmsley's there, and you want somethin' a human bein' can do, she'll help you out. Always, too, with something worthwhile, you just bet you! Can't find a fairer, squarer guide, who sees a problem from every side. Want high ideals, judgment and fun? Here you have them all in one! Always smiling, and gets things done—Prof. Walmsley.

'Got to thinkin', just last nite, what makes Connie's eyes so bright? Guess it's just the fun inside, tryin', oh so hard to hide! Yet it can't help peepin' through, smiley-like at me and you. Wonder if the folks out West didn't make a bit of fuss when Connie brot her dancin' and her smilin' eyes, to us? 'Cause we've found that, 'neath the sunshine and the happiness outside, a right good friend, advisor and counselor abide.

The hiking-season starts soon after the opening of college, continuing until Thanksgiving recess. It is a seven point sport for the girl who cannot or does not choose to play the major games, Hockey or Tennis, and provides more exercise than archery. This is a popular sport and is found to furnish the finest of exercise along with the eternal joy of going places and seeing things with lusty companions. Supper-hikes to Thorncrag or the River-bank are special features for the whole group and you know how good hot dogs and all the fixin's are out-of-doors.

Archery is one of the relatively new activities of W. A. A. The year 1928 being its fourth season. This sport is open to all interested but is specially provided for those girls unable to play in the more strenuous sports that W. A. A. promotes. Archery has become both a fall and spring activity. The spring championship, shot at the Greek Festival, was won by the Juniors, '28, and the fall champs were the Seniors, '29.

Volleyball

If the Locker building ever re-echoed, it was during the volleyball games. The Senior cheers and exultations reverberated throughout the building.

The Seniors were out for the game. Were the Juniors? Of course! What about the Sophomores and Freshmen? They had spirit too!

The Seniors held last year's victory before them, and were determined not to hand the flag of truce to the Junior class.

The preliminary game was with the Sophomores. Fran Maguire's serve is a mighty one. The score of this game was 67-18 in favor of the Senior girls.

The Senior-Junior game was the most exciting one of the season. The outcome determined the championship. The Seniors forged ahead at the start; but the Juniors, undaunted, made a spurt near the close of the game only to lose by three points. The class of '29 had a score of 32.

It was the plucky Freshmen that tried to steal a march on the fourth year girls. They rolled up a sizable score. When the referee's final whistle blew, the score was 58-32 in favor of the Seniors.

Thus, the 29-ers defended their title to the volleyball championship.

Hockey

MANAGER
FRANCES JOHNSON, '30

In the fall, the Bates-returning co-ed's first question is, "When does hockey practice begin?". The veterans of the three upperclasses are eager to don the pinnies, try to find a matched pair of shin-guards and a good stick and get goin'. The Freshmen, having recovered from initiation, are anxious to try their hand at this game which has been the topic of conversation since college opened.

At last, schedules are posted and eighty-nine enthusiastic girls are working out under the coaching of Professor Walmsley and Miss James. The captains are elected, teams picked, and it is the eve of the 1928 tournament; Seniors and Juniors primed for a struggle for the championship; Sophomores out to do or die; Freshmen just a bit nervous and excited at the thought of their first game.

The fate of the Juniors was decided in the very first game of the tournament when the Senior "Bolsheviki" fought their way to a score of 3-1. What a game! As a second feature of the afternoon, the Freshmen showed their merit by losing by only one point to the hard pressed Sophs, in a game played far, far into the twilight. Emboldened by their previous victory, the Seniors triumphed over the Sophs 10-2. In the next game of the tournament the Juniors proved that they were down but not out by gaining four goals to none on the score sheet of their sister class of '32; and by defeating the Sophomores 8-2. That same afternoon the Seniors defeated the Freshmen. The next week the second teams of '30, '31, '32 played off a series of games which left the Juniors victors.

Many were the shattered nerves and hoarse voices after those weeks in November. By this time King Winter decided that the co-eds had had enough thrills for one season, and put an efficient end to affairs with a brisk, decidedly anti-hockey snowstorm. Regretfully were the balls and sticks, pinnies and guards put away for another long year until the fall of 1929. Everyone is agreed that hockey's a great game.

Basketball

MANAGER
CATHERINE NICHOLS, '30

"O, basketball's a grand old game", sang more than seventy girls at the banquet that marked the close of a highly exciting and well-played season of basketball. The Juniors, 1928 Champions, came out on top again. But only after three hard-fought, fast and furious games where every minute counted. The Seniors, runners up, were too close for comfort, especially in the final game when the score was 42-38. The Sophomores, rated, by prediction, the lowest, sprung the season's surprise when, in the best game of the week, they defeated the fighting frosh 31-29. The Freshmen were a continued source of worry to all upper-class teams. Although they dropped every game, they played well—(Bless them, everyone, they've got the spirit that we love to see.) They are giving next season an interesting outlook.

The interdorm tournament had its high-spots, too, and ended in that great game where the Town Girls' team beat Rand (Rand won two games, anyway) with a score of 21-15. And not many bruises!

Spring, for one thing, means Soccer and Soccer means out-of-doors. We rejoice when we can once more kick that little old ball with all the force of winter-suppressed desires. Yes, Soccer is one of the most popular sports and if you don't believe us come out some fair or maybe even a rainy day and you'll get a real kick out of it too, if you use your head. Who will ever forget that game last spring between '29 and '30, when, with the score one to one, the heavens tried to dampen our spirits. Well, maybe we did get wet. The flesh is weak. But not for a minute was the spirit soaked. And the flesh and field were well dried by Greek Fete Day so we tried to play off the tie. But it was of such good quality that it wouldn't get played out; we tied again, and this time a Gordian knot. We think it was better so. This spring's games will tell—.

Winter Sports

Oh, get on some woolens and come on snowshoeing! Yea, with pleasure. And sometimes we go skiing and skating and tobogganing, and just to jar your memory, spilling too. As soon as Lake Andrews gets frozen, who vies with old winter to skate? We do. We, the winter sports. We practice for the carnival, the great contest where points toward the cup can be piled up. We play hockey for fun! And what fun, not to mention what hockey! And then it snows! And with the snowfall, "Clearing and meadow, stream and ice-bound pond are made once more a trackless wilderness." But Mount David is never trackless for long after one of these Mainely snow storms. Our hopes in becoming ski experts go up and down as we mount Mount David higher and higher. Nothing does so much for the complexion or the sense of humor than this getting out and under the snow. Dr. Patterson will back us up in this, we know.

Baseball

Twilight league games of three innings and ending at quarter of ten may be unusual but not in co-ed baseball. Between the Twins and our State Champions-to-be the cage was much in demand, so the girls played at night. These evening games gave certain of the Rand Hall sweethearts a chance to be on parade. Some who came to laugh remained to cheer (somewhat).

After three weeks of practice the teams were chosen and the games played off in the Athletic building. The Seniors ended the season as champions without having lost a game. The Juniors were runners-up losing only to '29 by a 16-15 score. '31 lost to the Freshmen by one run.

League Standing:

'29	1.000
'30	.666
'32	.333
'31	.000

Thus endeth the season!

Natural Dancing

The Sophomores are introduced to it; the Juniors may elect it during the Indoor Season; the Seniors may choose to take it twice a week for nearly the whole year.

Creation of Dance, and Natural Graces, which last comes through muscle freedom and control, through the medium of vigorous physical exercise to music, and complete enjoyment are the aims of Natural Dancing.

The Sophomores begin with basic work, muscle freeing and strengthening, music tempos and begin to create dance forms.

The Juniors continue with basic work adding more intimate rhythm, and progress in work with Tone-pitch enabling them to create more advanced dances.

The Seniors progress the most. They begin work in Special rhythms with or without music. They enter the intricacies of dancing with a scarf, and specialize in the waltz. The Seniors are advanced in creative work, and reach the point of dancing to poetry. They finish their college dancing careers with their participation in the Greek Play.

Tennis

MANAGER
DORIS DAVID. '29

Every spring we are impatient until the courts have dried off and we can get in trim for the class ladder tournaments. Usually these come the last of May, extending into June (this rainy weather!) with a final elimination tournament for the class and individual cup. A spring season alone, however, is not enough for the conscientious, and game-loving racketeers. Consequently, a fall season for the experienced but more especially for beginners has been added. At this season, instruction and exhibitions are given. Instead of the usual class tournament, two mixed groups were arranged—one for the beginners and for the advanced. By playing off a series of challenges the better players were sifted out into the first four places—7 points!

Track

When spring really comes and our athletic field dries off, everything is all set for the girl's track season. Track appeals strongly to many co-eds. Probably the best thing about it is the variety of exercise each practice provides—running, hurdling, broad-jumping, discus-throwing and javelin-hurling.

Last year, Miss James introduced Greek technique in some of the events—the discus throwing and hurdles.

About the Meet? And the Champs? Last year, the class of '30 carried off the honors with '29 second. Sometimes the dope and dopesters get upset!

Garnets vs. Blacks

Over fifty of the faculty asked for reserved seats, high school girls came in throngs, and, oh, how the men pleaded with the co-eds for just one ticket to the Gym Meet in Rand. To put it mildly, the Gym was crowded.

First, the freshmen performed. Why, it made us breathless to watch them! No easy task to be perpetual motion machines for fifteen minutes—and no slackers with Miss James standing there urging each one to pull - - - hard, push, push, push.

Next, fairy creatures flitting about in floods of orange and rose light, to the strains of delicate music. Fairies? Why, no! Sophomores in pastel costumes, interpreting, improvising, expressing themselves in dance. Then, the Juniors, more accomplished and perfected fairies. And finally the seniors and Miss James, herself, the climax of the program of dancing.

The stunts and tumbling were just a little bit different and original, the individual program was another proof of the health-building aim of the Department. The juniors showed skill in their apparatus work; the games were exciting. The feeling of friendly competition throughout the Meet was keen, and no small factor of the contest was the organized cheering.

A little after ten the girls trooped back to their respective dorms, happy to have had a part in perpetuating another Bates tradition.

We don't know about the wand"er"ing instinct but we're sure the "er"ing instinct had appeared before this time.

The hoarding instinct had a good start when this picture was taken—Note its reach to-day!

Bobby: "It seems to me, dear, that there is something wrong with this soup."

Yvonne: "Wrong again, dear, the cookbook says it is perfectly delicious."

Among the "400" in 1929

Tallest Man: DELMONT LUCE

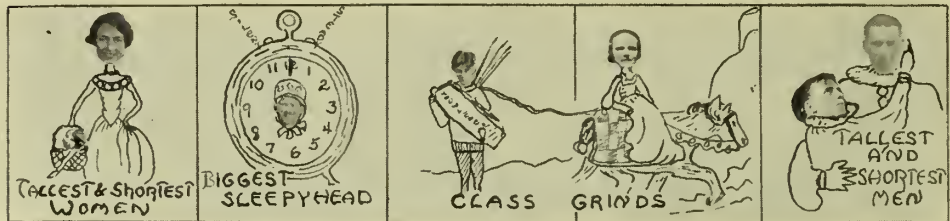

The skyscraping competition ended with "Del" Luce leading all others by several feet.

Tallest Woman: MARY FINN

Mary took this easily. We wonder if, perhaps, she hasn't been racing with her brother Jack? !!

Smallest Man: G. HARTLEY CURTIS

"Web-foot" Curtis handily wins the honor of being 1929's smallest—so small in fact that we lost him somewhere in February.

Smallest Woman: GRETA THOMPSON

But Greta wasn't so small that Director Crafts didn't find her to help in the college orchestra.

Biggest Sleepy Head (man): RAYMOND NILSON

If Rip Van Winkle had known Nilson, he would have slept for another twenty years. In a certain famous battle ten thousand Swedes came out of the weeds. One, our hero, remained and slept. Neal Turner might have made that second a tie if he hadn't waked up long enough to come to chapel that morning.

Biggest Sleepy Head (woman): FRANCES MAGUIRE

If you feel that you really should get up early to study, but yet don't want to—just ask "Fran" to call you! It'll work every time!!!

Class Grind (man): EDWARD BILODEAU

When the large hours of the night make way for those wee hours of the morning Bilodeau can always be found at his desk. At any rate, he gets the work done!!

Class Grind (woman): EDNA YORK

A grind a day, we'll all agree
Is worth it, for a Phi Beta Key.

Orator (man): HOWARD BULL

Walter Hodsdon was a close second here, but Howard must have gotten the jump on him through the practice he gets "Caroling".

Orator (woman): FAITH BLAKE

Maybe Faith out-voiced Eugenia here by practicing her editorials.

Most Efficient Man: JAMES SOLOMON

Because, besides being Editor-in-Chief of the MIRROR, Managing Editor of the STUDENT, President of 4A, etc., Jimmy finds plenty of time to be a "Mary" (merry) co-educator.

Most Efficient Woman: MARY PENDLEBURY

Mary "Jimmied" her way to a "safe" place here with "Dot" Nutter coming in a bit later from "Green", having had trouble with the "Rhodes".

Class Vamp: FRANCES COBB

Maybe the term class is too restrictive here, yet, we wonder if "Fran" is still the class vamp or just has "Ben" (been) ??? Mike speaks for second honors.

Class Sheik: FRANCIS YOUNG

Shades of Valentino!! Francis "Riverbank" Young, for the second consecutive year is conceded to be our most proficient in that popular indoor sport that originated in the tents of Arabia.

Best Dressed Man: ALLAN NASH

Walking illustrations from Vanity Fair!! Everything about Allan has that certain primness.

Best Dressed Woman: FRANCES COBB

"Fran" might have just stepped out of the Style Show any day. It's funny she most always dresses in "Auburn" and is a bit partial to "White".

Best Athlete (Woman): FLORENCE KYES

"Kysie" certainly has put Jay on the Athletic Map!! We sort of suspect that she may have coached that Jay team which got into the Basketball Tournament this year!? Signed up with the Red Sox yet, Kysie?

Best Athlete (man): PIERCE MAHER

Not of the clay of Philistinism is the jovial "Pete" Maher, our best athlete. He, of fame in three sports, is also a good student. Yes, Royal Adams was a close second!!

Wittiest Man: JOHN HASSETT

Smiling Hibernian eyes and a flippantly-mirthful tongue label "Johnny" Hassett, a humorist. However, the man who wrote "Snowbound" is Whittier.

Wittiest Woman: EUNICE MCCUE

"Wanted: Wise-cracks!" Go to Eunice; she has more than a barrel of 'em! She sticks in her thumb and pulls out one, polishes it, and hands it to you with a blank face and a solemn eye. You should get a patent on those "McCueisms", Eunice.

Biggest Time Killer (man): RAYMOND NILSON

Nilson wants to know if he can be convicted for killing time!? We don't wonder he got this vote; that derby and coolie duster are certainly "killing".

Biggest Time Killer (woman): BETTY COONEY

Maybe one of the consumers of Betty's time won't care so much for this. Anyhow, we're inclined to think the title "Fitz".

Man Hater: EVELYN KENNARD

Evidently some of the men think Faith is handing them some bouquets, for they voted "Ev" Kennard to a winning place in this with Faith "slamming" in second.

Woman Hater: LEWIS GRAY

Louis Gray has made the northwest corner of Old Parker a refuge for femaleless men. Here in his fortress of misogyny he lives in opposition to co-education and everything feminine. But, sh-h!! When alone, he takes many a furtive fourth-story glance at those he professes to abhor. "Phil" Tetreau rated second but we "Betty" (bet he) doesn't belong there!!

The 1929 Mirror

Class Baby (woman): ESTHER SARGENT

Hey there! Get a "Peram"bulator; Baby Esther wants to take a ride! Mother Sargent washed behind her daughter's ears and sent her to Bates to be educated. But! not even an education can mar that "Baby Face".

Class Baby (man): GILBERT RHOADES

Gilbert "Bad" Rhoades protested vigorously against this decision, claiming that just because he couldn't keep in "Harmony", was no sign that his voice hadn't changed. At any rate, we gave him some more Mellen's Food.

Best Disposition (man): RAYMOND NILSON AND JOHN HASSETT TIED

Nilson attributes his good disposition to an abundance of victuals and his daily period of dormancy. Why shouldn't "Johnny" Hassett be good-natured? His mother allows him to go to the movies every night.

Best Disposition (woman): LUCY LUNDELL

Hair and eyes with the smack and tang of peaceful Scandinavia, cheeks that ripple with an incessant smile of congeniality—that's Lucy Lundell! Room-mate, "Eth" Hoyt, smiles her way to a close second!!

Best Dancer (woman): MILDRED YOUNG

Mildred started "Young". Sophomore year her chief interest was in the "Larkin" Company. We wonder how the dancing will get on with "Har-old" (her old)???

Best Dancer (man): WALTER LARKIN

Come forth, oh Muse of Dancing, and behold our twentieth-century Terpsichore! Larkin tripped his finest to win from "Topsy" by a step.

Best Looking (man): HOWARD BULL

The last word in the seniors' masculine pulchritude is Howard Bull.

Best Looking (woman): FRANCES MAGUIRE

That eyes!! Those hair!! "Fan" may be the biggest sleepy-head but she certainly woke up in time to step ahead in this with "Mike" second—or, maybe, it's a case of the "Sleeping Beauty"?

Most Popular (man): ROYAL ADAMS

Balloting was not necessary! Obviously "Roy" is without competition for senior popularity at its zenith.

Most Popular (woman): MARY PENDLEBURY

Mary, 1929's most popular girl, has gained a favor once vied for by a thousand women: She is most popular with "Solomon"!! Close on the heels of the victor in the contest for senior esteem is "Eth" Hoyt.

Most Brilliant Man: "LARRY" LeBEAU

Phi Beta Kappa, Editor-in-chief of the STUDENT and Business Manager of the MIRROR!!! No wonder 1929 voted "Larry" its intellectual beacon.

Most Brilliant Woman: MIRIAM McMICHAEL

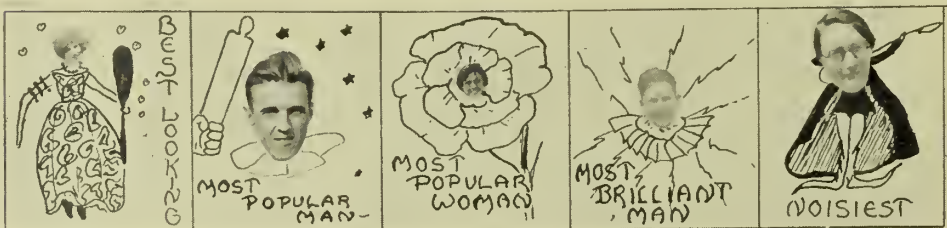

"Mike" outshines the rest of 1929 co-eds in this vote. It "Max" (makes) no difference in what field. Even Cupid has no easy task keeping up with her.

Noisiest Man: RAYMOND NILSON

When Nilson isn't sleeping he keeps the campus uproariously upset with ever-reverberating bellows. Much of this uproar occurs when he is engaged in his major and minor subjects: football and track, respectively.

Noisiest Woman: DORIS CHICK

"Chick" took this without any competition. We doubt if she would have been quiet long enough to hear it if there had been any.

Biggest "Line" (man): WALTER HODSDON

A silvery-tongued "Spanish Athlete" is Walter Hodsdon. We are of the opinion that he could sell ducks on the Sahara. From him we learned that the only thing found in Lewiston not found in Auburn is the other end of the bridge.

Biggest "Line" (woman): MIRIAM McMICHAEL

Another verdict for "Mike", which might apply also in another sense. Shall we say "of admirers"? Anyhow, she's got a line, and "Howe"]!

Most Talented Man: STEWART BIGELOW

Upon this velocipeding senior we bestow this honor without disparagement. Actor, dancer, writer, student, and handshaker supreme are Bigelow's qualifications.

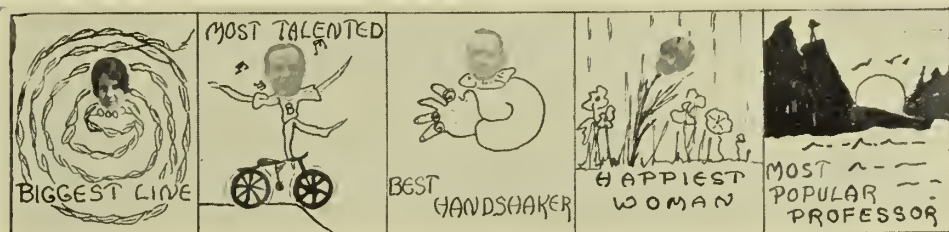

Most Talented Woman: MIRIAM McMICHAEL

Not so bad—walking away with three votes, already!! But how could “Mike” help getting this one? A clever debater, musician, actress and writer, and “what have you”? 1929’s lucky!!

Best Handshaker (man): WALTER HODSDON

The seniors regard Walter as a real handshaker. He leaves the “Profs” with blistered shoulder blades and hands so compressed by his grip that the fingers stick together for hours!

Best Handshaker (woman): MIRIAM McMICHAEL

Someone certainly had to do some handshaking to keep up with Walter! The class voted “Mike” pretty well up in this competition since she keeps the hands “Bob”bing.

Happiest Man: RAYMOND NILSON

As happy as a butcher’s dog is Nilson; who, with his characteristic avariciousness, hogs his fifth title.

Happiest Woman: ETHELYN HOYT

“Eth” Hoyt, again; this time in the role of our happiest senior co-ed. No camel was ever more contented on an oasis than is “Eth” here at Bates.

Most Popular Professor: PROF. TUBBS

We’re pleased to see “Doc” Tubbs stand at the head in this vote. Yes, he does encourage “star-gazing”.

Most Popular Subject: GEOLOGY

Evidently the seniors believe it best to “come down to earth”. We rather expected Astronomy might rate here. The members of that class must have overslept after a night under the stars.

Favorite Actor

Voting for this superlative was just a matter of form—Bigelow, of course! When not acting he takes long tours on the “Pike” on his bicycle.

Favorite Actress

Besides being popular off-stage Mary has the class vote for favorite actress. Guess we like you in any role, Mary!

Favorite Pastime

Dancing “stepped” in here with sleeping (due to Nilson and “Fran” Maguire) and movies tied for second place.

Scandal - - Scandal

FOR GIRLS ONLY

Knew you'd read this—and yet you say girls are curious!! Not one!! - - - but many girls would have read a story like this for boys only? Not one!!

A SENIOR RECIPE

PRESERVED "PAIRS"

These are to be put up in cans just for two. After sterilizing jars fill them carefully in the following order:

Viola Zahn—"Stan" Snell
 "Dot" Lane—"Roy" Adams
 "Pris" Lunderville-Maynard Colley
 Yvonne Langlois—"Bobbie" Berkelman (faculty flavoring)

Pour over these a sugar syrup. You cannot get this too sweet!! Seal tightly and place on exhibition. Zenith (1917)

THE MIRACLE

G. Alexander (Scotch) takes "Abie" (a little Ragamuffin) to the movies.

G. Alex. (on way walking downtown): "Hurry up, Abie, or ve'l miss de first show!!" (arrived downtown) "Ah! here's a good place vere ve see de show for 15 cents, for vich ve get four pictures. Let's go in here. Oh, but wait a minute, 'Abie', der's a place down the street vere I see dere is a show for ten cents, for vich ve get also four pictures!! Come on, 'Abie', ve vil go in dere!" They enter (after G. Alex. digs the 10 cents out of his pocketbook; 'Abie' is under 12 so does not have to pay).

G. Alex.: "Oh, vat nize, soft seats, 'Abie'!! Vots dat you say, Madame? I'm sitting on your lap? Pardon me, I thot it vas plush cushions. Vot's dat, 'Abie'? You vant some candy to eat in the show? Look under the seat, 'Abie', you vill find some gum there!!"

Whereupon, G. Alex. settles himself to get his 10 cents worth!!

Carl Woodcock says: "When some folks come out of the barber shop you wonder if they have been waited on." ? ? ? ?
